Dying Lake Carnegie About to Receive $1 Million Lease on Life

Maybe not so graceful as a luxury liner, but a lot more vital to the Princeton community, the 100-foot-long steel dredging barge for Lake Carnegie was launched into the lake with a splendid splash Monday at 2 p.m.

Dredging won't actually begin for about four weeks, according to Charles Folk, superintendent of the project for the American Dredging Company of Philadelphia.

When it does start, perhaps in mid-May, pumping will continue 24 hours a day, six days a week as the barge moves in a slow progress down the lake. The entire operation will probably be completed in about six months.

The hydraulic dredging project is being undertaken by Princeton University — owner of Lake Carnegie — financed by a grant to the University from an anonymous donor.

"It's a million-dollar project, but we hope we can do it for less than that amount," says Clifton Bischoff, Plant Superintendent at the University, who is in charge of the operation on the University side.

"We're dredging the lake to a depth of six feet," he explains, "with an eight-foot channel down the middle. That's about what the lake was like when it was built in 1906."

Today, Lake Carnegie is only two feet deep in many places. It's a sick and dying lake, strangling on silt brought down by Stony Brook and slowly being poisoned by sewage pollution from municipalities along the Millstone River.

"You can almost walk across the lake," Mr. Bischoff says sadly, and taking note of that sewage, warns that the newly-scoured lake won't stay clean for long unless pollution problems are solved.

Dredging will start at the western end of the lake where the barge was launched, across from the Hibben and Magie faculty apartments and almost under the Penn Central "dinky" bridge.

"We're lucky in that location," Mr. Bischoff continues. "The railroad bridge confines the stream, so that the water has channeled out a 20-foot hole, right where we wanted to launch the barge. If the hole hadn't been there, the company would have had to dig one."

The barge, spanning 30 feet in width to its 100-foot length, consists of nine parts, each a separate tank that floats by itself. Now that it's afloat, workmen will begin to assemble equipment on it: housing to protect the crew from weather, and of course, the pumps.

The plan is to suck up silt and mud from the lake bottom and pump it, with lake water as the vehicle, into the pair of 30-acre "spoils areas" already prepared by the University, one on Washington Road and the other behind the Auditory Research Labs, just this side of St. Joseph's College.

Motorists have been aware for some time of the Washington Road spoils area. It lies behind high earth dikes on the right-hand side of the road leading to Route One.

Metal piping will go along the bank of the lake, then up the hill to the spoils area. The pipe carrying the silt will be 18 inches in dia-

ONE LIFE SNUFFED OUT: Princeton University senior Thomas C. Cerney, 24, was killed early Saturday morning when his 1965 hardtop (left) collided head-on with a 1972 two-door sedan at right. Trapped in his car, Mr. Cerney was pronounced dead of head injuries. Story and that of another fatal accident involving an 18-year-old Township youth on page 3.

RECYCLING SCHEDULED

For Princeton Township. Recycling (strictly voluntary) will begin in Princeton Township on Monday, May 1.

The Rescue Mission will send trucks up from its Trenton headquarters to travel Township streets, picking up re-cyclable materials from the curbside of participating households.

No precise schedule has yet been worked out, reported Township Engineer Joseph Hodak to Township Committee Monday night, but the trucks will come around every two weeks, on the same day each time, for a given household.

Glass, may be dumped into a carton or bag, without regard for color or kind, that is, returnables, green, brown and clear can all be tossed in the same box. Bottles should not be broken.

Newspapers, tied in bundles by the householder, will also be picked up.

Magazines must be tied separately from newspapers.

Tin cans aren't in the project yet, but they may be included at a later date.

At first, regular collections will be made only in built-up areas of the Township. People who live in outlying sections will have to call the Rescue Mission and ask for the service. Here again, details will be publicized before May 1.

There is no cost to the Township or to the householder for the service. Resuce Mission hopes to break even on the sale of re-cyclables and if it doesn't, it will bear the loss.

After a six-months' trial period, the project will be evaluated to see where the Township and Rescue Mission go from there.

Originally, the Township had planned to set up collection stations in the Shopping Center, and Mayor John D. Wallace emphasized Monday night that the Center's management would have agreed.

However, Administrator Joseph R. Nini and Township resident Steve Slaby, an engineer who has been representing the Township in solid-waste discussions with Mercer County, came up with the Rescue Mission idea.

The Mission regards the Township project as a kind of pilot Mayor Wallace said.

"J" ROAD FINANCED

To Cost $525,000. A half-million-dollar bond ordinance for construction of the "J" Road, off Terhune and North Harrison, was introduced Monday night by Township Committee. Public hearing on the $525,000 measure will be held Monday, May 1, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Two-thirds of the road's cost will be assessed to property-owners who adjoin it, including Princeton Community Housing, Inc., with its 240-unit middle-and-low-income housing units. The remaining third will be paid for by the Township.

Construction of the road, which Township officials enthusiastically hope will open the Office-Research zone to nice, fat rateables, is the Number One item in the 1972 Capital Budget, which was adopted Monday night.

The budget amounts to $1,265,600, and it's really just a list of the things Committee hopes it can get done this year. Included:

- Cherry Valley Road realigment: $50,000.
- Sewers for Greenhouse Drive, Rosedale Lane, Kingston Road and Princeton Community Housing: 185,600 for all.
- Purchase of Woodfield Park ($400,000) and the Bovino property on Leigh Avenue and John Street ($50,000) for parks-and-recreation, and construction of new recreation facilities in Community Park. These would be a pair of new paddle-tennis courts (they will pay for themselves, Mayor John D. Wallace stated); basketball and handball courts and two bocci areas. $44,000.

The $494,000 recreation projects above, will be shared with Borough and, the Township hopes, with the state.

- Sidewalks: $22,000 (Ewing, west side, from Guyot to Valley, and Valley north to the North Harrison connection; Linden, east side, from Henry to Guyot)
- Bike Paths: $5,000.

Coed Escapes Death

A Princeton University coed escaped injury Thursday when a candle ignited a rug and table near her bed as she lay sleeping in her room in 1904 Hall.

Awakened by a crackling sound at 8:45, Miss Susie Swihart reported she saw flames just inches from her head. The blaze was put out by a janitor who used a fire extinguisher.

The University is reported considering taking disciplinary action against Miss Swihart, who, according to proctors, had covered a fire detection device in her room with an empty food container.

A WALK ON THE LAKESIDE

This marvellous contemporary is situated in the most splendid setting in all of Hopewell Township: over five wooded acres overlooking and including Honeybrook Lake. From it's slate entry foyer to it's forty foot terrace with fireplace overlooking the lake, it flows freely as a fine contemporary should. The spacious and light living room, dining room, and eat-in kitchen are all oriented to the lake, while the master bedroom with dressing area and the children's sleeping quarters are distinctly separate. The lower level family room and guest rooms are splendid for weekend entertaining. Dogwoods, rhododendrons, oaks and the complete pleasure of a walk on the lakeside. $160,000.

READI-JET II DENTAL HYGIENE APPLIANCE

Readi-jet II is a dental appliance which aids in overall oral and dental hygiene for every member of the family.

It provides a pulsating jet stream of water which cleans behind, between and around teeth — the areas that toothbrushing may miss. It is intended as an additional aid to good oral and dental hygiene, and not as a substitute for toothbrushing.

Readi-jet is particularly effective as an oral hygiene aid for persons having orthodontic appliances such as bridges, braces or retainers.

Lake to Be Dredged

meter. Two 24-inch pipes will carry the water back to the lake after the silt has been dumped.

"These pipes are above ground," Mr. Bischoff explains, "but they don't go across roads and they probably won't even be visible. We have state permission to put the pipes across the canal."

The two dumping areas are about two miles apart. The lake itself is three and one-half miles long, and Mr. Bischoff estimates two miles of piping to accomplish the job.

Dredging was done once before, in 1937. At that time, the University bought its own dredge, did the work and then sold the dredge.

This time, the project has been handed to American Dredging. University officials say it's the largest company of its kind in the country, possibly in the world, with successfully completed assignments stretching all the way to South America.

Once, in a dredging job in Philadelphia harbor, workmen from American Dredging found pewter bowls from a submerged British man-o-war. Fossil materials are frequently found, and now and then a body.

"But Lake Carnegie isn't very old," Mr. Bischoff says, "I doubt if they'll find much more than rusty bicycles."

TO DISCIPLINE STUDENTS

For Nassau Hall Sit-in. Possible explusion, deferral of degree or merely a reprimand face the 100 or so students who occupied Nassau Hall for nearly 24 hours last weekend, blocking a meeting of Princeton University's board of trustees.

The protestors, who had hoped to get the trustees to agree to an "open meeting." were demonstrating against the pending ratification of ROTC contracts. The trustees were scheduled to meet at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Faculty Room in Nassau Hall.

The students began the sit-in around 11:30 a.m. Friday, remaining in the building over night, despite warnings by Neil L. Rudenstein, dean of students, that interference with a scheduled meeting of university trustees was a serious violation of rules.

Names of students who remained in the room will be sent to the Judicial Committee for disciplinary action. Proctors, armed with Freshman Heralds, and a photographer who snapped pictures, worked identify students.

President Robert F. Goheen and three trustees appeared at Nassau Hall early Saturday morning, but left shortly after surveying the scene. The trustees meeting was moved to Dr. Goheen's residence, Lowrie House, on Stockton Street.

Several of the protestors discovered this and went there, but were turned away by Borough Police and proctors. One student, Dennis J. Michael, a junior, was arrested at 10:44 a.m. by Borough Police and charged with trespassing. He was released at noon on his own recognizance.

The rest of the students left Nassau Hall around 11 a.m. Saturday, vowing to "cootinue to expand the struggle." No damage was done to the building.

APARTMENTS ENTERED

At 81 Leigh Aveaue. Apartments on the second and third floor of a boarding house at 81 Leigh Avenue were entered Saturday between 1 and 2 a.m. Doors to each apartment had been forced open, Township police said.

According to police, a stereo receiver and four speakers, valued at $250, were taken from the apartment of Herbert James on the second floor. Stereo equipment and a television set were taken from the third floor apartment of Anthony Dillon. Sgt. David Potts investigated.

OPEN MEETINGS PLANNED

By Rights Commission. Regularly scheduled open, public meetings of the Joint Commission on Civil Rights will be held the third Wednesday in each month at 8 p.m. in the Princeton Youth Center starting this Wednesday, the Commission announced this week.

A monthly newsletter and a booklet defining civil rights and legal recourses in case of enfringement, will both be distributed throughout the community, the Commission said.

William Fitch, executive director of the Commission, and Linda Berger will edit the newsletter. Felicia Simpson will prepare the booklet, enlisting such civic groups as the Girl Scouts, in distribution.

Who's Running Around Here? '72 Race Begins

With the deadline for filing candidates' names only a week away — 4 p.m. Thursday, April 27 — both political parties are in the final stages of screening potential winners.

In the Borough, Democrats are interviewing three possibilities for the two Borough Council seats. They are Barbara Sigmund, 8 Evelyn Place; Larry Ivan, 79 Jefferson Road, and Robert Powell, 39 Chestnut Street.

The possibility of a primary contest looms here. The Princeton Community Democratic Organization which generally gets the label of "liberal," has interviewed all three candidates but endorsed none. The Princeton Democratic Association, often given the "conservative" tag, is still interviewing.

Mr. Ivan is sometimes regarded as a "conservative" candidate, while the other two adhere more to the P.C.D.O. side; in fact, Mr. Powell is a P.C.D.O. officer. Hence the seeds of a primary battle in the June 6 primary elections.

Borough Republicans are not saying publicly who their candidates are.

In the Township, six candidates have come forward to be considered for the pair of vacant Committee seats, but no primary contest is expected.

Those being screened are William Sutphin, 6 Laurel Road; Sumner Irish, 177 Terhune; Abbot Low Moffat, 2 Pheasant Hill Road; Mrs. Ellen Peterson, 50 Littlebrook Road; Mrs. Ellen Levine, 633 Prospect Avenue, and Margaret Broadwater, 54 Herronton Circle.

Mr. Sutphin is a member of the Regional Planning Board; Mr. Moffat, of the Township Planning Board, Mrs. Peterson of the Township Board of Health and Mrs. Broadwater of the Township Zoning Board.

Republican incumbents John D. Wallace and Dean Chace, who are expected to run again, have not made formal statements of candidacy.

STUDENT, TEENAGER DIE In Separate Car Accidents. A Princeton University senior who had returned safely from service in Vietnam, and an 18-year old resident of Shady Brook Lane were killed early Saturday morning in separate accidents that occured within two hours of each other.

Thomas C. Cerney, 24, a senior at Princeton University, was killed in a head-on crash on the Princeton-Kingston Road near Locust Lane early Saturday morning, and Douglas Beste, 18, 185 Shady Brook Lane, died when his car smashed into the side of a truck in Cranbury at 3:14 a.m.

Mr. Cerney, a resident of Encino, Calif., was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. P. C. Tan who lives at 19 Locust Lane. Death was attributed to head injuries. He was alone in his car.

The other driver, Jacob W. Grover, 25, of Hollow Road, Skillman, was admitted to Princeton Medical Center where he was operated on for a fractured left leg. He also suffered lacerations of the face.

Also admitted to the Medical Center was his passenger, Gene T. Jones, 17, of Camp Meeting Road. He had his upper teeth knocked out and sustained lacerations of the lip.

No Witnesses. There were no witnesses to the 1:32 a.m. crash. It is still under investigation by Ptl. Peter Savalli and Ptl. William Potts who are being assisted by Township Traffic Safety Officer, Sgt. Anthony Nini. Police report that they have not yet been able to speak to the two survivors.

Mr. Cerney, after having served in Vietnam, was to have graduated in June.

"It's disheartening. I don't know what the answer is," said Sgt. Nini. Road conditions were described as clear and dry.

Sgt. Nini reported that it was the fourth fatality on Princeton-Kingston Road in the past three years. The most recent in the Township took place last September, when a young man was killed in a crash on Bruere's Hill.

Dead on Arrival. Mr. Beste was dead on arival at the Medical Center, where he and his passenger John Arnott, 17, 88 Magnolia Lane, and the driver of the truck were taken.

Mr. Arnott was admitted with multiple injuries. His condition was described by the Center on Tuesday as Satisfactory. The truck driver, Runald App, 30, of New Britain, Conn., was treated for minor injuries.

According to Chief Kenneth Logan, the Beste car apparently went through a stop sign and rammed the tractor-trailer in the side.

Two in the Borough. There were two intersection crashes in the Borough last week, resulting in injuries.

Pfl. William Hunter ticketed Douglas Arcamone, 20, of Penn-Lyle Road, Princeton Junction, for going through a red light at the corner of Hamilton and N. Harrison at 7:34 Saturday morning.

The Arcamone car was struck in the side by a car operated by Manfred Rost, 58, 644 Princeton-Kingston Road. His wife, Annie, received four sutures at the Medical Center to close a laceration of her lip. Sonya Rost, 7, received three sutures for a scalp laceration.

Mr. Arcamone was also issued a summons for a late inspection violation. The entire right side of his car was demolished.

Gladys N. Robertson, 43 of RD 5 received lacerations, broken teeth, a broken nose and multiple abrasions when her car was rammed in the side Friday morning at 6:40 at Nassau and Vandeventer. Taken to the Medical Center in a patrol car, she was treated and released.

Sgt. Robert Anderson quoted the second river, Glenn S. Reiner, 19, of Neshanic, as saying his mind was not on his driving and he went through the light. He complained of pain in his rib cage. The entire front end of his small car was damaged.

After impact, the Robertson car continued on and struck a trafic light pole on the southwest corner of the intersection.

REOPENING PLANNED. Of Wing at Medical Center. Effective Monday, May 1, the Medical Center at Princeton will reopen the third floor nursing unit of its A-wing and in a related move, will reinstate a 40 hour work week. A 37½-hour week had been in efect since January.

Announcing the reopening of A-3, which was closed as an economy move on Octoher 29, Walter A. Seligman, Medical Center Administrator, revealed that during the month of April a waiting list of between 20 and 25 patients has devolped and is continuing.

"After consultation with the Medical Staff, it is now apparent that there is enough demand by patients and physicians to warrent reopening the floor," Mr. Seligman said. "By opening A-3 now, it is also anticipated that some renovation of A-1 or A-2 can be made during the summer in line with the Center's policy of attempting to derecorate its facilities when needed and as the census permits."

"Although it is anticipated that with the reopening of A-3 the Center's finances may improve," Mr. Seligman emphasized that "our financial situation is far from resolved. There are many 'back bills' that must be paid and the institution's cash position is still extremely tight."

Reopening of A-3 will result in a net increase of 17 beds for nursing purposes with three solarium areas currently being used as four bed units being reconverted for solarium use.

NEW ROLE FOR HOSPITAL Teaching to Be Offered. With the signing Monday of a contract by The Medical Center at Princeton and the Rutgers Medical School, College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, the Medical Center officially became a university affiliated medical teaching hospital.

Principals at the ceremonies, held in the Medical Center's meeting rooms, included Dr. Stanley S. Bergen, Jr., President, College of Medicine and Denistry of New Jersey; Dr. James W. Mackenzie, Dean of the Medical School; Ralph S. Mason, President of the Center's Board of Trustees; Dr. Arthur L. Fein, the Center's Medical and Dental Staff President; Dr. Charles R. Ream, newly-appointed Chairman of the Department of Medicine at the Center; Dr. Harvey Rothberg, the Center's present-Chairman of Medical Education; and Walter A. Seligman, Center Administrator.

Terming the contract signing "an event of great significance having meaningful impact on the total health care picture in our service area," Mr. Mason called the new alliance "one which should have far-reaching beneficial effects for both institutions involved." The signing marked the consumation of negotiations between the Medical Center and Rutgers Medical School which were launched shortly after the first of the year, Mr. Mason said.

Dr. Ream, former physician-in chief and internal medicine consultant at Saint Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, as Chairman of the Department of Medicine here will direct all of the Center's educational programs within the department including residency and intern training conducted under the terms of the agreement signed

Come to Town Meeting Sunday!

Come to the First Baptist Church at 3 this Sunday, stay until 7 (supper provided), and during the four hours in between, decide with the rest of your fellow townspeople "what to do about Princeton."

This is the third Town Meeting (first two were in January) sponsored by Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Borough Council and the Planning Board.

In this meeting, you can join one or two workshops, and exchange ideas about parking and traffic; security and order; housing; street life; a community center and using town resources.

Each workshop must come up with one project that can be completed in the next three months — that's Mayor Cawley's stipulation.

It might be arranging a Fourth of July parade.... planting flowers in a bare spot....setting up a special Hot Line for old people who are lonely...arranging for tours of historic Princeton buildings.

Anyhow, come and talk and enjoy First Baptist hospitality. The church is on the corner of John Street and Avalon Place.

SIT-IN STAGED AT PHS

Forty Blacks Protest. A group of angry black Princeton High School students voluntarily gave up a spontaneous "sit-in" Tuesday afternoon in a school conference room following two days of discussions centering around the rumored dismissal of two teachers.

Discussions began Monday morning, when about 40 black students presented a petition to Principal Patricia Wertheimer and angrily demanded an answer to the alleged dismissals.

The teachers involved are Patricia J. Lockheed of the physical education department, and John C. Mazzotta, a language teacher. (Wesley Johnson, associate superintendent, said on Tuesday that the dismissal in one of the cases was not true. He declined comment on the other.)

According to report, the students threatened not to leave Dr. Wertheimer's office on Monday but did so eventually. Guidance Director George Petrillo and Alfred Seitz were called to the office and talked with the group.

Tuesday morning, Dr. Wertheimer met with a student sub-committee of four members, plus Marvin Trotman of the PHS guidance department. She described it as a "fruitful" discussion, centered around concerns of black students that the school was not "listening" to them. Students also protested lack of sensitivity on the part of many teachers.

Later in the day, other black students went to the conference room and the discussions reportedly became angry and heated once again. Superintendent Philip E. McPherson, school board president Robert Bierman and Dr. Wertheimer all talked with the students, and around 2 p.m., the group disbanded of its own accord.

BOROUGH MAN JAILED

For Cashing Forged Check. Augustus Hyter, 22, of 13 Quarry Street, was arrested by Borough police Saturday, after he allegedly cashed a forged check for $50 at Davidson's Market.

He is being held in jail in lieu of $1,000 bail set by Judge Theodore Tams. Police responded after being called by the store manager.

FIVE ARE FINED

In Borough Traffic Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Cremilda D'Onisio, 21, Cold Soil Road, and Esther T. Santoro, 40, 404 Franklin Avenue, were fined $15 and $12 for careless driving. Speeding cost Duncan W. Brown, 19, 110 Dodds Lane, 15.

For using the high school west yard as a thoroughfare, Marvin W. Durland, 22, Princeton Road, Plainsboro, paid $15. Failure to yield while exiting from a private drive cost Albert S. Parks, 51, 214 S. Main Street, Pennington, 15.

For driving while impaired by alcohol, James W. Luttman, 33, Princeton Arms Apartments, Cranbury, was fined $55 and had his license revoked for six months. James L. Crawford, 32, Hamilton Square, lost his for two years and was fined $205.

NAME LEWIS LIEUTENANT

Of Borough Police. Theodore H. Lewis, a 20 year veteran, has been named lieutenant of the Borough police and will be second in command of the 28-man force when Lt. Michael Carnevale becomes chief August 1.

The 49-year-old Lewis was recommended to Mayor and Council by the Police Committee on the basis of a written examination, his police record and oral interviews. Council will act on the recommendation May 9. If approved . . . "and I see no reason why he won't be," said Chief Peter J. McCrohan, Lewis' appointment will take effect August 1.

"I was very favorably impressed with all four sergeants we met with," said Mayor Robert Cawley Tuesday. He reported that Sgt. Lewis' recommendation had been unanimous. Others taking the test were Sgt. Ralph Procaccino, Sgt. John J. Belluw and Sgt. Robert Anderson.

Sgt. Lewis joined the Borough force in February, 1952. He was assigned to the detective bureau in 1965 and was made sergeant in January, 1966. Born in Kingston, he lives at 25 Lytle Street and is the father of three sons and three daughters.

After attending Princeton High School, Sgt. Lewis served in the U. S. Army in Europe during World War II as a member of a tank destroyer batallion.

Discharged, he attended West Virginia State College, graduating in 1949 with a degree in education. He continued his education at Springfield College, Mass., where he earned a master's degree in physical education.

He never went into teaching, however. Teaching jobs were scarce in the early 1950s and Sgt. Lewis turned instead to a career in police work.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

In Police Pay Dispute. Negotiations between the 12 West Windsor Township police patrolmen and Township Committee were broken off last week when Mayor and Council rejected a proposal offered by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association 130 which is representing the patrolmen.

PBA prsident Bernard C. Lenhardt, a Princeton Borough patrolman, reported that Committee has refused to discuss further salary and a benefit package for the West Windsor police who are presently working without a contract.

As a consequence, Ptl. Lenhardt said that the PBA is "seriously considering the possibility of petitioning the Public Employees Relations Commission to arbitrate the dispute." PERC is a state agency.

"As it stands now, yes, we will petition PERC," said Ptl. Lenhardt on Monday. He added that a final determination will be made at a meeting of the PBA on Thursday.

A West Windsor patrolman starts at $9,000 with a maximum of $11,000. In contrast, a Princeton Borough patrolman starts at $9700 and has a $12,000 maximum. The West Windsor police salary and

Princeton Joins Essex County in Redistricting

Princeton — both Borough and Township — will belong to a newly-drawn Fifth Congressional District as a result of a court-ordered redistricting handed down last week by a three-judge Federal court in Newark.

Shortly after the court announcement, a Princeton Democrat, Frederick M. Bohen, 128 Fitzrandolph Road, revealed that he may enter the June primaries with the November goal of unseating Republican Peter Frelinghuysen of Morristown. Congressman Frelinghuysen represents a district composed of Morris and Somerset Counties, and his district is now incorporated into the new Fifth District.

Until now, Princeton has been in the Fourth Congressional District along with the rest of Mercer County. Congressman Frank Thompson Jr. has been the District's representative for the past 16 years.

This November, Mr. Thompson will be running for re-election in the new Sixth District, which bisects the state from Burlington County on the Delaware, to the ocean-front in Monmouth County. He will keep six municipalities in Mercer: Trenton, Lawrence, Hamilton, East Windsor, Hightstown and Washington.

If Mr. Bohen decides to file by next Thursday's primary deadline, he would be facing two Morris County Democrats who have already entered the race.

Mr. Bohen is assistant to the president of the Ford Foundation, and president of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization. He was a White House aide under President Lyndon B. Johnson, and was formerly assistant dean of the Woodrow Wilson School. His wife, Halcy, is assistant dean of students at Princeton University. Her mother, Ione Harger, of Hunterdon County, ran unsuccessfully last year for State Assembly.

The new Fifth District will include, besides the two Princetons, West Windsor, Somerset County, part of Morris County and two communities each in upper Middlesex and Essex counties.

Hopewell Borough and Township, Pennington Borough and Ewing will now be part of a new District 13, which will include all of Sussex, Warren and Hunterdon Counties and part of Morris.

benefit program is currently the lowest in Mercer County, the PBA said.

Ptl. Lenhard commented that agreements have been reached in most basic areas under discussion, with the exception of compensatory pay for overtime duties. He pointed out that in the years 1968-71 West Windsor police were required to work 3,700 hours of overtime without receiving compensation.

CURRICULUM CHANGE HIT

PHS Drops Education Course. At 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, the school board's new Community Relations Committee will hold its first public meeting, half an hour in advance of the regular board meeting.

The group will gather in the library of Community Park School under its school board chairman, Eric Craig. The public is invited to come and talk.

Staff reductions at the high school will again occupy the board. At the agenda meeting this Tuesday, a cut-back in the Business Education Department drew the kind of anguished discussion that has already followed changes in the Modern Language Department.

Elimination of the Distributive Education course was at issue. The course, given currently for 32 students with approximately 15 signed up for next year, trains students in retail sales work.

Nicholas Carnevale, president of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, protested dropping of the course, and told the board "one thousand jobs" in Princeton had to be filled with young people outside town because the high school didn't offer enough vocational ed.

Dr. Patricia Wertheimer, PHS principal, said she believed courses similar to Distributive Ed., although admittedly not identical, were available elsewhere in Business Education. She mentioned the Trade and Industry course, in which students attend school and work out in the town.

Window Dressing? She added that Business Education was an "under-subscribed" department which didn't draw many stuents.

"You haven't been decorating the commercial window enough to attract the students!" retorted Mr. Carnevale.

When William Bux, Business Education teacher, pointed out that Distributive Education itself was now "over-subscribed" by seven students (the state, which helps fund the course, suggests enrollment limits), a member of the guidance department suggested salvaging the course by taking it out of "under-subscribed" Business Education and putting it in some other department.

How Many? For the first time this year, student course choices have been used as what Dr. Wertheimer described as a "rough" guide for deciding which courses to cut back and what teachers to dismiss.

Mr. Bux, who is also president of the PREA, the teachers' organization, challenged Dr. Wertheimer's figures on student course choices and announced that he and other teachers had, over the weekend, tallied students' course-choice sheets themselves, arriving at figures different from Dr. Wertheimer's. He said the sheets of 200 students were missing altogether.

When Dr. Wertheimer revealed that Mr. Bux' group had declined to share its own tallies with her, a member of the group told her the teachers wanted first to make certain the figures were accurate.

James Bulger, of the PHS history department, charged that faculty had never been asked "what kind of school system are we going to have?" He suggested that it was easy, in an academic community like Princeton, to justify a Russian course with only six students, and to drop Distributive Education.

Financial considerations are behind faculty cut-backs, board members pointed out.

When Sally Bomberger, PHS on teacher c, requested as junior, requested, as she had before, an open meeting on teacher cut-backs. Board President Robert Bierman reminded her of many student-teacher meetings with Dr. Wertheimer and Superintendent Philip E. McPherson and suggested that another meeting wouldn't necessarily be productive.

"Wednesday." Also on the agenda for next week's meeting will be the Wednesday program.

Dr. Bierman posed three questions: control over the kinds of programs that are included in "Wednesdays," and he cited "Slimnastics;" the advisability of allowing a teacher to audit a course in a nearby college and whether non-teaching staff should be included.

He said the new Wednesday Program constitution was hammered out in an effort to tighten up procedures, such as attendance, and to promote better programs. Board members have complained about both in the past.

Proposed purchase of a computer will also be discussed next Tuesday. Dr. Bierman told this Tuesday's audience that "many on the board feel we won't go ahead with it."

MINORITY STUDENTS UP

In University's Admissions. Princeton University will offer admission to 1,991 young men and women as members of its entering freshman class in letters being received this week by secondary school seniors in 48 states and more than a dozen foreign countries.

Although the figure is only 15 more than the 1,976 admitted last fall, the Class of 1976 offers are going to a somewhat higher percentage of minority students (especially blacks), a few less women, and an increased number of potential engineers.

From the admitted group Admission Director Timothy C. Callard hopes to produce a class of 1,100 — identical in size to last year — 800 of them men and 300 of them women. It would boost to about 1,000 the number of undergraduate women enrolled at Princeton, as compared with about 3,200 males.

The admitted secondary school students — 1,518 men and 473 women — were selected from among a record 8,488 completed applications for admission to Princeton, 6,104 from men and 2,384 from women. Thus, overall, about one out of every four males and one out of every five females who completed applications were accepted; however, the acceptance rates for minority students, alumni sons and daughters, and engineering applicants were somewhat higher.

In most areas, admission statistics closely parallel those of last year.

Blacks — 213 of them — comprise just under 11 percent of the admitted class, up from about nine percent last year. This is an 18 percent increase over the 101 offered admission last year. The group includes 142 men and 71 women. The pool of black candidates also was larger this year, 647 as compared with 600; thus, about one out of every three blacks completing applications was accepted.

There were also 151 applicants from other minority groups admitted from an applicant pool of 451. These include 74 Asian-Americans, 47 Puerto Ricans or Cubans, 24 Mexican-Americans, and six American Indians. All figures represent increases over last year.

With the expected enrollment of 300 freshman women (a number identical to last year), Princeton will be well ahead of its original projection of 650 undergraduate females by September 1973. It also surpasses a revised timetable for admission of freshman women.

Next September should see 1,000 women on campus, with the total boosted to 1,200 for the 1973-74 academic year. Fewer women, however, were offered admission this year (473) as compared with a year ago (520).

Of the 1,991 applicants admitted as freshmen for this fall, 145 are sons of Princeton alumni while 64 are alumni daughters. The 209 total is 13 higher than a year ago and was drawn from an applicant pool of 462.

W. Bradford Craig, Director of the Bureau of Student Aid, said he expected the direct scholarship aid to the entering Class of 1976 to total $957,000, reflecting assistance in this form to 457 young men and women (42 percent of the class). All told, more than half of the entering class will receive some form of financial aid.

Callard said the University planned to admit around 75, and anticipated about 55 of these would ultimately transfer here. "Although the number of entering transfers last year was 135," the admission officer explained, "this year's smaller number of admitted transfers is by no means a reflection of any drop in quality. If anything, the quality of this year's transfer applicant group is stronger than ever before. It is simply a question of available space and a desire not to cut back on the size of the freshman class." Letters to this group go out May 1.

SPRING FESTIVAL SET

Next Wednesday at Seminary. "The First Annual Princeton Seminary Spring Festival" will be held on the Seminary Green next Wednesday, April 26, from 3 to 7. The public event, a joint effort of the Seminary's Stewardship Committee and Flight II, is designed to support the committee's continuing program of contributions to worthy causes and Flight II's work in the Princeton area.

Flight II is known to many residents of the Princeton area. The stewardship committee, comprised of members of the Seminary's faculty, staff and student body, plans to devote its share of the proceeds toward establishing a D. T. Niles Professorship in United Theological College in Bangalore, India, and funding "Cross-Counter," an ecumenical, multi-racial organization in Newark.

Besides actually seeing Flight II in operation, those who attend may watch or participate in such sports as a sack race, a three-legged relay, a mammoth soccer game and a tricycle race around the green. Art, poetry, composition and photography will be on display, sharing honors with an old-fashioned lemonade stand. A picnic supper will be supplied by the Seminary's Food

REGISTER NOW

For Hunter Safety Course. The annual hunter safety course for those 14 or older who wish to obtain their initial hunting license will be held this weekend and next.

Sponsored by the Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association under the direction of Ptl. Walter Emann, the course consists of two two-hour classes (Friday evening and Saturday morning) and a four-hour field work and written examination class next Saturday morning. Successful candidates will be awarded the certificate required by the state for purchase of a hunting license.

Application forms are available only by writing — or calling — Mrs. Mary Mount, 135 Herbert Avenue, Hamilton Square, at 587-6078. Name, address and date of birth should be included. The application must be signed by a parent or guardian and brought to the first class.

Classes will be held at the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club on the Princeton-Hightstown Road. Limited enrollment is on a first-come, first-served basis. Additional information may be obtained from police headquarters in the Borough, Township or West Windsor.

NEW DEAN APPOINTED

By University. Adele S. Simmons, presently Dean of Jackson College, Tufts University, has been named as "Dean of Student Affairs," the first woman to be appointed as a senior administrative officer at Princeton.

The 30-year-old graduate of Garrison Forest School and Radcliffe, was selected after a three-month search headed by Dean Neil L. Rudenstine.

Commenting on the appointment, Dean Rudenstine said students were "capable of viewing Dean Simmons in her own light" in disciplinary situations, adding that she would not be hampered because she is a woman.

Dean Simmons said the trustees were "very supportive" in her selection and she expects little opposition to her appointment from alumni.

TAKE THE EGGSPRESSWAY

Route 1 Name Changed. How many eggs does it take to make an omlet on the Route 1 Traffic Circle at Penns Neck? About 1,200 dozen.

That's how many broke up Tuesday when a truck loading door flew open, dumping enough eggs, cardboard cartons and wire cases of assorted poultry products to cause a sizeable traffic problem. West Windsor Police detoured all vehicles down Alexander Road for more than an hour while volunteers from the

DEMOCRATS NAME STUTZ

For West Windsor Committee, Alan H. Stutz, 7 Huntly Drive, Jefferson Park, will be this year's Democratic candidate for the West Windsor Township Committee. Mr. Stutz, who was on the ballot last year, will seek the seat now held by Democrat Theodore A. Peck, 11 Glenview Drive. Mr. Peck has announced that he will not seek re-election.

Committeeman Peck is finishing a three-year term. He said many of his original concerns for conservation are gaining increased attention in West Windsor, adding that his determination to work on regional waste disposal and county prison reform had forced him to make a choice against running for a second term.

Mr. Stutz is in charge of administrative systems and data processing at Princeton University. He is president of the West Windsor Democratic Club and a member of the board of directors of the West Windsor Community Association.

Bryn Mawr Rarities

A rare edition of William Faulkner's "The Reivers" has turned up in the books donated to the Bryn Mawr College Club book sale, and estimates of its value range from $50 to $400.

The book will be on sale along with other contributions at the annual sale in the gym behind Borough Hall.

The Faulkner, autographed by the author, is Number 50 in a limited edition of 500. It was discovered by teen members of Interact who were drawn to the volume by its outmoded celluloid dust-jacket.

Another rarity in the thousands of volumes donated to the sale is a volume from the personal library of F. Scott Fitzgerald, with his name written in the front.

FLOWERS . . .

FOR NO REASON.

Here it is midway between Easter and Mother's Day. Chances are birthdays are behind you and anniversaries are still to come. There doesn't seem to be any reason to buy flowers — no reason at all. Except maybe ALLEN'S DOLLAR FLOWER SPECIALS. The fact that you can get so many lovely flowers for such little money — that just might be the best reason you ever had. What's more you're gonna love the results.

YOUTHS PLAN HIKE

To Aid Red Cross Programs. This Saturday, youths from the Princeton Red Cross area will set out from Borough Hall in Princeton to walk a 19 - mile route through Princeton, Plainsboro, and West Windsor.

In support of Red Cross Youth projects and activities, they have been seeking pledges of money from friends and neighbors on the basis of how many miles they walk.

All money collected will go into the Red Cross Youth Service Fund, which is not budgeted by Red Cross. It will be used for local Red Cross Youth projects.

"BLACK VOICES" SING

At Youth Center. "Black Voices," a choral group from Rutgers, will present a concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Princeton Youth Center.

The undergraduate group, formed last spring, is under the direction of Cleon Currie. "Black Voices" was founded with the goal of presenting the contributions of black artists in the field of choral music.

The group has a repertoire ranging from traditional spirituals and masses, to contemporary songs.

ECOLOGY PROGRAM SET

By Public Library. "Come and See Another World," a free children's evology program, will be held Wednesday, April 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Princeton Public Library.

George and Bernice Schwartz whose new book "Life in a Log" is scheduled for publication next month, will present slides and photographs of microscopic plant and animal life gathered from the environs of Princeton. Children will be encouraged to examine a variety of seeds, plants, and animals. The program is suggested for children in grades 1-6.

ARTS FESTIVAL PLANNED

At Princeton Day School. The fifth annual Princeton Day School Arts Festival will be held April 29 and 30. The opening event, culminating Alumni Day, will be Saturday's concert at 8 p.m. by the orchestra and Madrigal singers, under the direction of Frank Jacobson and Miss Carol Lewis.

On Sunday from 1 to 5, the school will offer a varied musical program, plus the exhibits of student works throughout the school. Students will also demonstrate different media and techniques. Under Mrs. Arlene Smith's direction, the Upper School art classes will show sculpture, painting, welding, batiking and a life class in session.

Mrs. Eileen Hohmuth, presiding over the loft studio, will display painting, drawing, sculpture and papier mache, all by Lower and Middle School students. Miss Jeanne Duff in the craft studio will exhibit her students' ceramics, weaving, macrame, jewelry, enamelling, stitchery, batiking, and stone and wood reliefs.

In the Industrial Arts rooms, Robert Whitlock and Andrew Franz will show their students' work in architectural drawing, power mechanics, drafting, woodworking, and press and silk screening from the printshop. On display, too, will be the winning designs from the first annual Mercer County Architecture Competition held at PDS in March.

A few words from Phil Cane on behalf of cheating at antiques.

There are two ways of getting the antiques you've always wanted: find them or make them. Our way is to make them. For several reasons. We can concentrate on museum-quality pieces. We can coordinate them with upholstered pieces and hand crafted accessories. And we can create custom pieces to match your particular dream. (Thomas Jefferson didn't own a stereo. But you can own one that he'd like the looks of.) We've filled a showroom with creations and re-creations you'd like.

Hutch table. Colonial answer for crowded apartments. A triple-duty beauty: top down, it's a table; top up, it's a seat; under the seat, you get storage.

CONSUL TO SPEAK

On Israel's Problems. Yakov Aviad, Israeli consul for political affairs in New York, will be the guest speaker at a panel discussion on "Problems Facing Israel in the '70's," at 8 p.m. this Thursday in Room 2, at the Woodrow Wilson School. The Princeton Hillel Foundation and the Israeli Students' Association are co-sponsors.

Panelists include Dr. Gabriel Ben-Dor, a specialist in Near Eastern ethnic groups who has conducted research on the Druze (a variant Moslem sect) community in Israel, and Dr. Saadia Toval, former chairman of the political science department at Tel Aviv University, now researching conflict termination at the Center of International Studies. Other panelists are Dr. Dan Anbar and Dr. Amos Yahiel.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

For May Fellowship Meal. Church Women United of Princeton will observe May Fellowship Day on Friday, May 5, at a luncheon at the Friends Meeting House, on Quaker Road. Mrs. S. E. Kerr, chairman, has announced that tickets at $2 are available in the churches from CWU representatives. The offering will benefitt he Princeton YMCA and YWCA camping program.

The speaker will be Mary Jane Patterson, associate director for national affairs, United Presbyterian Church U.S.A. She took part in a recent panel here on "Love and Justice."

REV. McREE TO RETURN

For Messiah Lutheran's 25th. The Rev. Oswald T. McRee, organizing pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, will be the guest preacher Sunday at 11 as the church observes the 25th anniversary of its founding.

There will be a special service at 3, with the Rev. Dr. Milton J. Nauss of the Lutheran Chapel of the Cross, St. Louis, Mo., as preacher. Mrs. Orion Labaw is chairman of the reception planned by the Women's Service League.

The Rev. Mr. McRee was formerly a vice-president and executive secretary of the English District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. During his eight years as Lutheran chaplain at Princeton University, he initiated the planning for the formation of a Lutheran congregation in Princeton. He is now pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection in Yardley, Pa.

NEW CENTER OPENS

At Pennington Church. The "Pennington Activities Center," geared for high school age youth, opens Saturday for the first time. The First United Methodist Church is sponsor and plans to operate the center from 8 to 11 p.m. on alternate weekends.

There will be activity groups for guitar, drama, macrame, auto mechanics, oil painting, basketball and swimming. A romm will be provided for those who prefer to listen to music and talk. All will be centered at the Church House, Academy and Main Streets and at the Pennington School. The Rev. John P. Wood II, is director.

The goal is to encourage interaction between all of the students of Pennington. Participants are asked to stay with the group chosen for the evening. They may leave at any time; however there is a policy of no re-admission.

Annual Tree Sale On

Flowering trees and shrubs are on sale through All Saints' Episcopal Church, Van Dyke Road, the Rev. A. Orley Swartzentruber has announced. Ray Porterfield is chairman.

The many unusual varieties offered include Kwanzan cheery and the beautiful Wilhelmina azalea. The price range is $5.90 to $15, benefit the music committee.

Orders may be placed by calling 921-9220 before next Wednesday evening, April 26. Pick-up is between 9 and noon on Saturday, April 29, in the church parking lot.

BULLETIN NOTES

Rev. William B. Morton, assistant business administrator of the city of Trenton, will preach this Sunday at 10 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. His sermon title is "To Beat the Devil." Child care and church school for children to grade 4 is provided. Classes for grade 5 through adult begin at 11.

Preacher this Sunday at 11 in Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church is the Rev. Robert Martin, director of the Fund for Theological Education. His sermon topic is "Beholders of New Things."

The adult workshop committee will lead the 9 and 11 services on Sunday in the Unitarian Church. The sermon will be based upon "It is good to be with one another."

Rev. James S. Weaver of the First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck will preach at 9:30 and 11 on Sunday on the topic, "Disagreeing With Those We Love." The dialogue study between services will discuss the Church in industry, with the Rev. James Campbell as discussion leader.

QUESTIONS FOR PRINCETON

1. Were the enrollment projections and costs considerations soley used to dictate program offerings and program cuts? Have programs been evaluated and if so, were these evaluations used to determine program offerings and cuts?

2. Has there been any evaluation of proposed program cuts for 1973-74 as listed in agenda item 8 of Board minutes of March 28, 1972.

3. Why has most of the discussion to date been focused on reduction of personnel engaged directly in classroom teaching? Is consideration being given to the number and cost of administrative personnel?

4. Why does it appear that a single, arbitrary standard ratio for staffing is being applied to cooperative work-study, vocational career training, and advanced placement courses, after so much past emphasis has been placed on broadening the Princeton school program to meet the highly specialized needs of our varied pupil population?

5. If there is going to be talk about "roll backs" and critical instructional changes, why aren't teachers, students, and parents — the individuals who would be most affected by such alterations — involved in the discussions?

6. Is the school board exempting some programs from evaluation and discussion simply because the state or federal governments pay half the cost rather than the Princeton taxpayers? At the same time, why have there been hints that some other programs may need to be discontinued when the school board could qualify for federal aid but has not applied?

7. Why did the school board recently spend money enclosing gymnasiums at two schools only to turn around now and threaten staff cutbacks that will leave these expensive facilities empty and unused several periods a day?

8. What assurance can the school board give that it does not intend to dismiss qualified teachers and instead leave classes of children poorly supervised under the direction of aides?

9. Is the school board serious about reductions in staff or is this simply a gesture to intimidate teachers and the Princeton Regional Education Association because of negotiations?

10. Are aides supposed to be a supplement to teachers or a substitute for teachers?

11. As a taxpayer did you not vote for a budget with salary allocations based upon the present teaching staff with the possibility of some additional staff?

POLICEMEN

A policeman is many things. He's a son, a brother, a father, an uncle, and sometimes even a grandfather. He is a protector in time of need and a comforter in time of sorrow. His job calls for him to be a diplomat, a psychologist, a lawyer, a friend, and an inspiration. He suffers from an overdose of publicity about brutality and dishonesty. He suffers far more from the notoriety produced by unfounded charges. Too often, acts of heroism go unnoticed and the truth is buried under all the criticism. The fact is that less than one-half of one per cent of policemen ever discredit their uniform. That's a better average than you'll find among clergymen.

A policeman is an ordinary guy who is called upon for extraordinary bravery — FOR US! His job may sometimes seem routine, but the interruptions can be moments of stark terror. He's the man who faces a half-crazed gunman, who rescues a lost child, who challenges a mob, and who risks his neck more often than we realize. He deserves our respect and our profound thanks.

A policeman stands between the law abider and the law breaker. He's the prime reason your home hasn't been burned, your family abused, your business looted. Try to imagine what might happen if there were no policemen around. And try to think of ways to make their job more rewarding. Show them the respect you really have; offer them a smile and a kind word; see that they don't have to be magicians to raise their families on less-than-adequate salaries.

We think policemen are great. We thank God for all the little boys who said they would be policemen, and who kept their promise. We hope you feel the same way, and we hope you'll show it, so there will be enough good policemen to go around.

ABOUT POLICE BRUTALITY

Support Your Local Police Committee believe that "police brutality" is a matter of serious concern. We believe, however, that policmen ought to be protected from it. In the past decade, more than 75 law enforcement officers were murdered in the line of duty. In 1971 alone, 125 were murdered, up from 37 in 1961.

There are numerous accounts of police officers being attacked, dragged from their cars and beaten, lured into ambush, victimized by booby-traps, and abused by hate-filled mobs. Policemen in this country are being bombarded with rocks, bottles and bricks; shot at from rooftops; and frequently hospitalized because of wounds inflicted with clubs, spikes and meathooks.

Added to all this, the policeman is harassed and shackled by civilian review boards, human relations commissions, and other groups. He faces the creeping, vise-like control that comes when politicians saddle his department with federal aid. And he must face criminals who know even better than he of the permissiveness and leniency of judges and parole boards. No wonder the job of being an effective policeman — always dangerous — is becoming almost impossible.

Every policeman knows what "police brutality" really is. We think it's time more of the public realized what it is too — so that something will be done about it.

THE WAR ON POLICE

In June of 1961, the Internal Security Subcommittee of the United States Senate released a small report which detailed Communist plans to discredit and destroy local police forces. Called "A Communist Plot Against The Free World Police," this report was ignored by much of the mass media.. Here, in part, is what it said:

Our police are among the foremost guardians of freedom and thus a major target of the Communists. The better the force . . . the more vital it is for the Communists to destroy it. The Communists' technique (of war against police) has been directed primarily toward discrediting the police in the eyes of the people.

There is a natural antipathy between police and Communists. The police learn early in their careers that the Communist Party is not just another political party but is an international conspiracy.

A campaign against the police of one free country is not planned and directed by the Communist Party of that country; it is planned and directed by the strategists of international communism.

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

We believe that the first and most solemn responsibility of all public officials is to protect the lives and property of the citizens in the community. Our local police, who have been entrusted with this fundamental obligation, have fulfilled their duties admirably, justly earning a reputation as "the thin blue line" protecting the law-abiding citizen from the lawbreaker.

We are extremely concerned about recent developments in this country which have imposed new and dangerous burdens on our local police. Harassment and outright attacks against the police, in many instances organized and controlled by subversives and criminals, have increased alarmingly. Court decisions have placed unreasonable restrictions on the forces of law and order, while freeing many criminals from prison and imposing only the mildest sentences on others. And far too many politicans have bowed to the disruptive tactics and outright threats of organized pressure groups.

For the foregoing reasons the Support Your Local Police Committee of Mercer County has been organized, and we urge all responsible citizens in this community to work with us to:

1. Support and encourage our local police in the performance of their duties, and to oppose all harassment or interference with law enforcement personnel as they carry out their assigned duties.
2. Reject any "civilian review boards" or other outside "supervision" of our police, because all such procedures disrupt an effective working relationship between policemen, their fellow officers, their appropriate superiors, and the public they are charged to protect.
3. Prohibit the creation of any national police force, or any other centralized authority, which would replace or direct our local police.
4. Oppose any and all efforts to subsidize, regionalize, or federalize our local police, through grants, assistance, guidelines, or legislation. Our local police must remain responsible to our local citizens; and any loss of their independence from outside controls will inevitably lead to a loss of our protection and safety as well.
5. Accept our responsibilities to our local police, to defend them against unjust attacks, make them proud and secure in their vital profession, and to offer them support in word and deed wherever possible.

The Princeton Borough police is the local force currently under active attack. There is an attempt to saddle the police and the community with a thinly disguised civilian review board. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED AT THE PRINCETON BOROUGH POLICE COMMITTEE MEETING ON THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 7:30 P.M. TO DEFEAT THIS MOVE.

Our committee is an educational organization dedicated to assisting our local police forces. We are part of a nationwide network of committees formed by Americans throughout this country. Our efforts require the help and dedication of many more citizens of this community. We welcome your participation. If you share our concern, please contact us. We look forward to hearing from you.

Obituaries

Dean Mathey, 81, of Pretty Brook Farm, The Great Road, died April 16 of a stroke in Princeton Medical Center. He was trustee emeritus of Princeton University and honorary chairman of the Bank of New York. A tennis enthusiast, he once represented the United States in the world championships at Wimbledon, England.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. Mathey graduated from the Pingry School and in 1912 cum laude from Princeton University, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, captained the tennis team and played varsity hockey. With his classmate, Burnham Dell, he won the intercollegiate doubles championship in tennis in 1910 and with another classmate, Charles T. Butler, won it again in 1911.

A nationally ranked player after graduation, he played on the United States teams at the Interallied Matches in Paris in 1919 and later in World Championships at Wimbledon. He defeated William T. (Big Bill) Tilden 2nd in 1923 and played mixed doubles with the American women's champions Molla Mallory, Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, and at Wimbledon with Suzanne Leglen, the French women's champion.

He followed the path of his father, Louis A. Mathey, to a career on Wall Street, working with the investment firm, William A. Reed & Co., and its successor firm, Dillon Reed & Co. from 1912 until 1945. He became a partner in 1924.

Foreseeing the growth of the oil and natural gas business, Mr. Mathey helped set up the Amerada and the Louisiana Land and Exploration corporations. He took part in the firm's decision to finance credit companies through Commercial Investment Trust and Beneficial Industrial Loan, now the Beneficial Corporation, and the motion picture industry through Loews.

In 1945, Mr. Mathey retired as a partner of Dillon, Reed & Co., to enter upon 21 years as chairman of the board of the Empire Trust Company. Empire Trust merged with the Bank of New York in 1966, and Mr. Mathey was named honorary chairman.

During World War I, he served in France as a first lieutenant in the field artillery. He was also, for a term, an instructor at the Princeton Preparatory School. He was the author of an autobiographical book, "Fifty Years of Wall Street," "Men and Gothic Towers," and "Bank Stocks for the Investor."

Mr. Mathey was a director of a number of major enterprises, including the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, U. S. and International Securities Corporation, A. G. Spaulding Bros., Amerada Petroleum Corporation and the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company.

He served as alumni trustee of Princeton University from 1927 to 1931, and was a charter trustee from 1931 to 1961. During those 34 years, he missed only three meetings. He helped establish an increased endowment for the School of Public and International Affairs as a memorial to President Wilson and helped build Woodrow Wilson Hall. He was a member of the committees on grounds and buildings and on finance for 34 years, becoming chairman of both. He was also chairman of the subcommittee on investments from 1948 until his retirement from the board.

Mr. Mathey's many interests included the Princeton Day School, the Princeton YMCA, Princeton Club of New York, Phi Beta Kappa Associates, Davis Cup Committee, Salvation Army and the Nassau and Pretty Brook Clubs.

He was married twice. His first wife, Mrs. Gertrude Winans Mathey, whom he married in 1927, died in 1949. His second wife, Mrs. Helen Newsom Mathey, whom he married in 1950, died in 1965. Surviving are three sons, Dean and MacDonald of New York City, and David of Princeton.

A private service was held, with arrangements handled by the Mather Funeral Home. A memorial service is planned for 6 p.m. this Friday in Princeton University Chapel. Dean Ernest Gordon will officiate.

Rowland Hike Sr., 59, of 224 King George Road, Pennington, died April 16. He was an investment banker with Tucker, Anthony and R. L. Day, Inc., New York.

Born in Cortland, N.Y., Mr. Hike lived in Pennington for several years. He was a member of the New York Bond Club.

Surviving are his wife, Louise L. Hike; three sons, Rowland Jr. of Trenton, William M. and Robert E. at college; three daughters, Mrs. Ronald H. Mutch of Mansfield Center, Conn., Miss Nancy Hike of Boston and Mrs. David H. Gray of Virginia, and nine grandchildren.

A family service was held at the Wilson Funeral Home, the Rev. Walter Coats of Pennington Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell. Memorial gifts may be made to the Heart Fund.

Edgar Temple, 75, formerly of Hopewell, died April 16 in Lake Worth, Fla., where he lived for the past six years. He was a former employee of Woolsey & Cadwalader Lumber Company, Pennington.

Surviving are his wife, May R. Temple; five sons, Harold of Pennington, Vernon of Hopewell, Robert of Lake Worth, Jerold of Somerville and Wayne of Holiday, Fla.; 11 grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Henry of Flemington and Mrs. Ethel Schneider.

The service will be held at 2 p.m. this Thursday in the Cromwell Memorial Home, 71 East Prospect Street, with the Rev. Bruce Pullen of Hopewell Calvary Baptist Church officiating. Interment will be in Old School Baptist Cemetery.

Walter J. Rightmire, 52, of Griggstown Road, Belle Mead, died April 18 in Princeton Medical Center. A lifelong resident of the area, he was a technician of Engineering Quadrangle Co. and had served with the Army in both World War II and the Korean Conflict.

He is survived by wife, Mrs. Annette Yanni Rightmire; three daughters, Mrs. Dolores Coch of Hightstown and the Misses Janet and Joan of Belle Mead; three brothers, John of Griggstown, Edward of Avenel and George of Griggstown; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Dvorak of Jamesburg and Mrs. Dorothey Crawford of Belle Mead.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 11 at Trinity Episcopal Church, Rocky Hill, the Rev. George Armstrong officiating. Burial will be in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Jane M. Hodne Tjomstol, 46, of Forest Avenue, Griggstown, died April 18 in Princeton Medical Center.

A native of Brooklyn, she had lived in Griggstown since 1947 and was an employee of the Boy Scouts in New Brunswick. Mrs. Tjomstol was a

LOSING STREAK ENDS

As Tigers Top Villanova. Two unearned runs in the late innings gave Princeton's baseball team a 3-2 victory over Villanova Tuesday, ending a three-game losing streak. Junior Bill Coppedge worked the first eight innings, scattering four hits to pick up the victory, with Randy Blevins retiring the final three men in the ninth.

Center fielder Pete Korsan drove in two of the Tigers' runs, one in the first with a single and another in the sixth on a sacrifice fly. The winning run crossed in the seventh on a muffed outfield fly that put Tony Riposta on second and a solid double to left center by Jeff Davis. The Tigers are now 8-5-1.

MORE FRUSTRATION

For PHS Nine. It was a dismal two days for the Princeton High School baseball team, still winless after four games.

First on Monday, PHS was raked by Lawrenceville, 12-5, and lost pitcher Don Crosby for a few weeks when he suffered torn leg ligaments in a collision at home plate in the first inning. On Black Tuesday, the Little Tigers let that first win slip away when they gave up four unearned runs in the last inning to visiting Hamilton, which won its fourth in five starts, 8-7.

PHS, which must tighten its play in the field in a hurry if it hopes to start winning, will be at Trenton High on Thursday and Cathedral on Wednesday. Ewing will be here Tuesday for a 3:45 contest.

Errors of all kinds and in dismaying frequency undid PHS Tuesday. The cruelist of all was the last, when catcher Bob Zinsmeister, returning the ball to his pitcher, Lance Marshall, threw it over his head to allow the winning run to score. "Of all the ways to give a ball game away!" said Harry Zoll, the exasperated Blue and White coach.

Wasted were two 3-for-4 batting performances by George Boccanfuso and Greg Kline, for PHS. Five others collected hits as PHS batted over .400 as a team.

Marshall, in control except for the disastrous final inning, walked only one. He had a 7-4 lead going into the last inning but was the victim of sloppy fielding by his teammates.

PHS seemed to have the final out when with two down and one run in, John Moran caught, then dropped a low liner to third. He recovered but his low throw got by first baseman Ray Richards. Boccanfuso then let Chuck Bartolomei's bounder to short get past him and the tying runs scored. PHS scored three in the first on two singles, three walks and a hit batsman.

Larries Win Second. Lawrenceville pitcher Otis Hubbard was touched for nine hits and walked eight in going the distance as the Larries evened their record at 2-2.

He didn't have to be perfect, however, as his teammates staked him to an 11-2 lead after four innings. Mike Carlucci, relief pitcher John Mooney, Kline and Richards each had two hits for PHS.

GIRLS WIN AGAIN

In Track, 61-57. Last year the Princeton High School girls track team defeated Ocean Township by three points; this year they were one better, defeating the same team Monday, 61-57. The team is now 2-0.

Double winners were Lori Bowman in the 220 (27.3) and high jump (4-8) and Karen Winn. Karen ran the 440 in 68 seconds flat and captured the long jump with a leap of 14-4. Devon Matthews finished second in the latter and Karen Herzog third to give PHS its only sweep. Herzog won the low hurdles with a clocking of 17.5.

Other Sports on Pages 40-44

15-ZIP, 15-ZIP

PHS Stickmen Reeling. In all honesty, the 15-0 shutout of the Princeton High School lacrosse team last week by powerful Montclair was not unexpected . . . "There's no way taking it away from them; they have a good team," commented PHS coach Marvin Trotman.

What was unexpected was Monday's debacle with Lawrenceville School, which defeated the Little Tigers by the same 15-0 score. The Little Tigers, who will travel to Pingry Friday and play Princeton Day School Monday at 3:45 at Community Park, are now 0-4.

HAMMOND STARS

In PHS Track Victory. Lionel Hammond took first place in the low hurdles (22.5), the long jump (19-10) and a second in the 440 to lead Princeton High School to its first track win of the season Tuesday, a 71½-59½ decision over Steinert. A sweep in the long jump, the final event, would have gained the visiting Spartans (0-2) a tie.

Craig Carlton and Gary Asano finished behind Hammond in the low hurdles to give the Little Tigers their only sweep. Carlton won the high hurdles. Others who captured firsts for PHS were Steve Woodside (100), Roland Smith (mile), Don Owens (220), Pete Nichols (2-mile in 10:39) and Bill Alexander (shot).

Taking seconds for PHS were Tom Snow in the two-mile, Bill Wilson in the high jump, Mik Coda in 880 and Woodside in the pole vault. PHS is now 1-3

Playing space, gardening space, swimming space, just plain breathing space — two high and wide acres of it surround this nice young house in a nice young-oriented neighborhood. The planting too is on the young side; but there's a delightful variety of it, including evergreens, birches, crabapples, roses, and enough forsythia and pussywillow to pick by the armload come Spring. The filtered pool is fenced; so is (organic gardeners take note) a large compost area! As for the house there's space there too. Living, dining and family rooms, attractive eat-in kitchen, four bedrooms and 2½ baths add up to a lot for a relatively little price of $55,000

A VIEW FROM THE BALCONY

AND from the center hall, living room, dining room, den, family room and three of the five bedrooms! The "back yard" of this handsome white brick house is a secluded section of Marquand Park, providing the pleasure of beautiful specimen trees and green spaces without the pain of outlay and upkeep. In addition to that rare combination, the house itself has just about everything a comfortable and attractive home should have.

The living and dining rooms, both with fireplaces, are most gracious; the den, with fireplace, is cozy and private; the kitchen, pleasant and efficient; the bedrooms, especially the master suite with fireplace, good-sized, light and appealing. Outstanding among many outstanding features is the large panelled family room with its window seat storage, bookshelves, bar and stunning raised brick hearth fireplace topped by a huge copper hood. Closets, particularly a mud room-back hall full, are numerous; so are the bathrooms—4½; and have you counted the fireplaces? (We haven't even mentioned the variety of attractive mantels.) The large formal terrace also overlooks the gorgeous greenery of the Park, and the planting around the house rivals it. A brand new, well-priced listing at $110,000

SOUNDER THAN THE DOLLAR

This sort of construction is hard to find in today's market. A fine two story Colonial in absolutely spanking condition and built when things were done right. The first floor has an entry, large airy living room with fireplace, spacious separate dining room, an extremely attractive and efficient kitchen, charming sunroom which can handle family overflow, and powder room. Upstairs are four bedrooms, a full bath and a dividend room ideal for a nursery or sewing. Come summer it offers a screened porch, super shade trees, fine hedging and tells the story of lots of T.L.C. Offered at $55,000

FOR YOU, WITH LOVE

Over the past eight years its meticulous owners have worked with taste and imagination to rebuild, refurbish, remodel and redecorate every square inch of this delightful Cherry Hill Road house until now it is perfection for a small family. On nearly 1½ acres of woods and pachysandra-bordered lawn, its cozy, cottagey charm will captivate you at first sight. From the welcoming, old-fashioned front porch, you'll step into a lovely living room with wide bay window, 18th Century, pine mantel and floor to ceiling bookcase wall. A formal dining room seats eight and for larger dinner parties opens through french doors to a glass walled sun room that becomes a screened porch in summer. A dutch door also provides access to the family breakfast room with its broad window from which to enjoy the changing seasons. The kitchen is a cook's dream and there's a big laundry and lavatory just a step away. Upstairs are 4 bedrooms, each with its own distinctive personality. (The master has a bank of long windows overlooking the woods; the smallest, a sloped ceiling with a bubble skylight for little star gazers.) Both baths are super. Extras include central air conditioning, and a cunning children's playhouse. All is in mint condition and available for the first time at $69,500

WESTERN PRINCETON BRICK AT THE EDGE OF BATTLEFIELD PARK

An easy maintenance, no problem house of lovely pale pink brick with crisp white detail. Live all on one floor and enjoy formal living and dining rooms, big pine panelled den with fireplace, modern kitchen with breakfast area, heated sun room, master bedroom and bath. For children or guests, there are two bedrooms and bath upstairs. Fabulous party room below decks. Centrally air conditioned. Asking $118,500

HAVEN FOR AN ECOLOGIST

35 acres of unspoiled neighboring woodland to enjoy from most every window of this rambling one story of stone and frame just west of Princeton. Taking full advantage of its site a unique floor plan extends two wings out in a V shape from a broad central hall. In one are: master bedroom, dressing room and bath, 2 twin bedrooms, bath and laundry room; in the other, a family room with fireplace, deluxe, fully-equipped kitchen and lavatory. Formal living and dining rooms make the hub of the house. Two car garage. Full carpeting and draperies. Air conditioned. On 1½ acres and available immediately. $73,500

VERY AVAILABLE IN THE WESTERN SECTION

A classic Colonial on two gently rolling acres, priced very close to its recent Township 100% assessment. Flanking a central hall are: large living room with fireplace and dining room. Terrific kitchen-family room. Bedroom and 1½ baths downstairs. 4 bedrooms and 2 baths up. Move in anytime at $86,500

A YARD FULL OF PLAYMATES

will greet your bouncy brood the day you move into this fine 4 bedroom house within easy walking distance of the Littlebrook School. Children of all ages abound (some old enough to babysit) along this quiet street and for romping with new found friends, there's a ground level playroom with outside entrance and adjacent lavatory. Out of the main stream are living and dining rooms. Eat-in kitchen. Fireplace. 2 full baths. 2 car garage, trees. $68,500

OR FOR MORE MODEST POCKETBOOKS:

We have much the same house in a slightly smaller version, though with an extra large all-purpose room and a raised deck, on an easily managed ⅓ acre just around the corner from the Riverside School to. $58,500

Attacks on Police Here Termed Communistic

A charge that "attacks" on Borough police closely follow "the Communist line" was made this week in advance of this Thursday's Police Committee hearing on a proposed expansion of the Committee to include three civilian members.

The charge was made by Edward Ahrens, 171 Westcott Road, who is also announcing, through an advertisement on page 17, the formation of the "Support Your Local Police Committee of Mercer County."

In his advertisement, Mr. Ahrens declares that the proposal of Princeton's Joint Commission on Civil Rights to add three resident members to the Police Committee is "an attempt to saddle police and community with a thinly-disguised civilian review board."

In a letter to Borough Council, released to the press, Mr. Ahrens writes:

"If the idea is to improve the 'community relations' of the police through additions to the Borough Police Committee, I suggest that placing on it only people who view the police as enemies is not the way to do it."

Who Should Serve. Instead, Mr. Ahrens proposes naming to the Committee "a victim of some crime who will not only want to emphasize the importance of the police, but but who will also get after Borough Council to 'squawk' every time their police force catches a criminal who 'over-reacted' and then some judge turns him loose.

He charges that, when community relations are discussed, "It is always asserted that the police must change—always the police. I suggest that those constantly casting aspersions on the police are the ones needing the changing."

Mr. Ahrens charges that "one Councilman is always slurring the police, seemingly inferring that all his constituents are criminals. The law-abiding in any area or group welcome police protection."

The writer charges "local news media", some members of Council, the "Human Relations Council" and "many so-called community leaders" with making little effort to conceal "their bias against the police."

"Drug Search" Cited. He writes about "the recent incident of the truck driver who was searched for drugs . . . . The local press fairly drooled with anticipation when it was found that he had none on him." He continues with praise for Borough police in combatting the drug problem, and declares that the truck-driver might have thanked the police "if he had not previously been incriminated by racists to view everything in only that one light."

In the case to which Mr. Ahrens refers, drugs were not a factor. According to police records, the truck driver was picked up on suspicion of possessing illegal "numbers" slips. None were found on him.

Linking criticism of police to "the Communist line," "Mr. Ahrens declares that although critics may not actually be Communists, "Lenin had a name for such people: "Useful idiots' ".

The writer, who has lived in Princeton for several years, is a frequent spokesman for various right-wing causes. According to his advertisement, the police-support committee is part of a "nationwide network."

Topics Of The Town

TRIO FACE HEARING

For Alleged Assault. Three men were scheduled to appear in Borough Court this Wednesday to answer complaint summonses that they assaulted a pedestrian last week on Witherspoon Street and the man who came to offer assistance.

The three are Robert Brooks, 22, of Clay Street; Donald A. Ruffin, 21, of John Street; and Raymond L. Dixon, 21, of Charlottesville, Va.

According to the victim, Arnold Herschorn, 24, of Red Hill Road, he was walking on Witherspoon near Maclean Street last Wednesday even around 9:45 when was surrounded by the three suspects. He told police later that they became abusive and struck him.

When Edward Grant, 42, of Jefferson Road, went to Mr. Herschorn's aid, police said, he was also struck. Police were summoned to the scene by a passing motorist.

"A RIGHT TO DIE"

Memorial Association Topic. Two speakers will discuss "A Right to Die" at the annual meeting of the Princeton Memorial Association to be held Sunday, April 23, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the campus center of Princeton Theological Seminary. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Paul Ramsey, chairman of Princeton University's department of religion, and the Rev. Donald McKinney, minister of the First Unitarian Church of Brooklyn and vice-president of the Euthanasia Education Fund, will speak.

The topic concerns the postponement of death by medical science, when in the belief of many doctors, psychologists and clergymen, the human being may actually have "a right to die."

The Princeton Memorial Association, a nonprofit, non-denominational corporation, assists its members in arranging funerals appropriate to their personal beliefs, and family and economic circumstances.

Meals on Wheels a Success

The first month's operation of the Council of Community Services' Meals on Wheels program has been judged a success, with 30 volunteers delivering 175 meals to 17 individuals in the Borough, Township, Kingston and Princeton Junction.

Launched March 1 as pilot program of the Council, the program delivers a hot lunch and a cold sandwich supper to any shut-in, handicapped, convalescent or older person who finds it difficult to prepare or obtain regular meals. The cost is $2.50 a day, but no one is excluded because of inability to pay.

Mrs. Richard Pearson, chairman of the Council's Committee on Aging, expects more volunteers will be needed with summer vacations approaching. Those wishing to volunteer or to arrange for meals should call 924-5865.

News Of The THEATRES

"PINAFORE" COMING

New Group to Perform. Several Princeton University students have handed together to form the Princeton Gilbert Sullivan Society, and the new Society will make its debut Wednesday, May 3, at 8:30 p.m., with a performance of "Pinafore" at the Stuart School.

Additional performances will be given Thursday, May 4, and Saturday, May 6, all at the same time and place. Matinees will be given at 2:30 Saturday, May 6 and 4 on Sunday, May 7.

Reservations, at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students, may be made by calling 452-8753.

The new organization — formed only three months ago — plans a presentation of "The Mikado" just before Christmas Members and singers are all students at the University. Tonia R. Vogel, a founder of the Society, is directing "Pinafore."

"12 ANGRY PEOPLE"

Beoefit, at Hun. "Twelve Angry People," a play about a jury, will be given benefit performances this Thursday and Friday by students of The Hun School. Curtain-time is 8:15 p.m.

Proceeds will go toward purchase of a kidney dialysis machine for a Hun faculty member. Admission is $2.

The play tells about 12 jurors who must decide the guilt or innocence of a teen-ager charged with stabbing his father to death. As the testimonies are examined in the jury room, each member of the panel reveals his own character, and shortly a new murder threat develops.

The cast will consist of Barry Green, Eric Sutherland, Susan Kain, Kim Lamont, Mike Kurilla, Amy Grodnick, Dennis Warwick, Natalie Usiskin, Tera O'Shea, Julia Gorenstein, Douglas Lidz and Reva Gershen. Gregory Goida of the school's drama department, is the director.

FOLK-ROCK

From Mark-Almond. England's Mark-Almond Band will play in Alexander Hall Saturday, April 29, at 8 p.m., as part of McCarter's spring Folk-Rock series. Tickets are on sale at the McCarter box-office.

The band consists of Jon Mark, who writes most of the material and is the group's lead singer; Johnny Almond, who plays soprano, alto and baritone sax, vibes, alto and bass flute and congas (he sings, too); Tommy Eyre, piano; Roger Sutton, bass and Dannie Richmond, the band's only American member who is on drums.

IT'S CHARLIE BROWN!

Musical, at Stuart. "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," the hit musical, will be given by the Stuart Country Day School Middle School Drama Group this Friday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre at the school. The public is invited.

Erica Edelman will be Carlie, Margaret Rose will be Lucy and Marie Balinski will be Schroeder. Other members of the cast are Elizabeth Carothers (Peppermint Patty); Michele Nicastro (Linus) and Katie Johnson (Snoopy). Sister Dorothy Holmes is directing, and the musical direction is under Ruth Kay Walker.

Players' Double Bill on Death Given 1 Brass, 1 Hollow Ring

After three years of commenting on drama in Princeton, I am beginning to understand exactly what I like and generally what I don't like. Perhaps it would be gentler to say "what I prefer", or to speak about what is "satisfying", but the terms I've used in my first sentence can stand, I think.

If anyone has cared to read these commentaries for three years, he knows my tastes already; but I doubt the existence of such a person, or I at least hope there is no one foolish enough to have paid attention that long. My adulations and excoriations being usually rather pronounced, even the casual reader knows something about my standards.

I am also dealing with my own feeling here: Three years of this may be turning me into a rather nasty person, unable to be rational, and less able to be articulate. Let me clarify, if I can.

The cause of these ruminations is the current evening of the Princeton Community Players, a double bill: "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn" by Lorees Yerby, and Jean-Paul Sartre's "No Exit."

In common, they deal with the fact that death is what you make it. But the plays are very different, and they have divergent effects. In brief, one is What I Like and the other is What I (being gentle) Do Not Prefer.

These are, of course, personal tastes, and I do not recommend that you see one without the other, even if possible. What I will try to point out is why one is successful and the other . . . well, the problem with the other is that it doesn't really matter very much how well it's done, it just isn't much of a play.

Simple and Lovely. "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn" is one of the simplest and loveliest small plays I've ever seen; everyone should see it if he is interested in making a graceful exit. The play is in fact about making an end gracefully, truthfully, perfectly in tune with one's existence.

It is also about the Twentieth Century Condition Of Man (if you can stand it): How to Be a Survivor. But in its better, smaller sense, it must be taken first. Two old ladies, friends, eat lunch in a cafeteria, making sounds like old doors or windows, creaking and groaning, letting air out, taking air in.

They are learning how to die, waiting, according to their perfect euphemism, for The Surprise. Though they are afraid of senility, desperate in their need to preserve their dignity, alternately puerile and aged, scolding and complaining, they are above all still alive.

Preoccupied with Arrangements for The Surprise, these are people caught up in the time just before they are to become ghosts. Their lives say to us, when we become old enough to understand and trust we are too late to make a difference.

It is piteous and beautiful, primarily because the playing of Sylvia Fontijn and Shirley Kauffman is very excellent and very difficult. In this play, where movement and variation are small, Evan Higgon has directed his two actresses aptly. They inhabit the play, they do not perform it, and it is affecting and fine.

Too Much Talk. The Sartre play, "No Exit", is not really for inhabitation, and there is one difference; it is for performing, or, if I may be permitted a coinage, it is for dialogue-ing. Talk, talk, talk, and all it leads to is more talk.

Three people in hell discover that the whole of damnation is Other People, as if you didn't know that already. Whether the thesis is true or not I can't yet say. But I will note my surprise at finding nothing in the play (by an author whose reputed preoccupation is with existence) that helps us to know better how to live now, before we are damned.

Or is he saying that we are in hell now, living, as we do, with others? If that's the case, Sartre doesn't help us much with muddling through, does he? And finally, like every message that attempts to beat us with the truth, "No Exit" commits the cardinal crime: it bores.

After watching this play, despite the work of Herbert McAneny, Sara Afflerbach, Rene Beaumont, and Bea Washburne in their two-dimensional roles, I am acquainted with what hell is for a reviewer. Norman Washburne, who directed, could have sought more variation in his uses of space and language, trying for greater variation in both; I'm not even sure that it's possible.

We need real lives to see, we need people to understand, we need models whose lives touch ours. In one play, we get what we need; in one play, we don't. Watch and see for yourself.

—David Carr

A MARRIAGE PROPOSAL REJECTED: Gorry Loveman finds his marriage proposal to Chris Betz does not produce the reaction he had hoped for in a scene from the Pennington Players' production of Bus Stop to be given this Friday and Saturday.

ALL OFF FOR BUS STOP

Pennington Players Offering. William Inge's comedy, "Bus Stop," will be presented by the Pennington Players as their spring production this weekend at Hopewell Valley Regional High School on West Delaware Avenue, across Rte 31. Performances will be given Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The play is set in a small town near Kansas City which serves as a rest stop for a bus line. Several people are stranded in the restaurant during a snow storm and the humorous goings on combined with some tender and intimate moments are the basic elements of this comedy and romance.

The role of Cherie, the night club singer, which was portrayed by Marilyn Monroe on the screen, will be played by Chris Betz of Trenton. Miss Betz has appeared at the Lambertville Music Circus, is the lead singer with "The Blue Crystals" and was seen last summer as June in the New Playbillers production of "Gypsy".

Channel 52's newscaster Charlie Brown of Levittown, Pa., will play the sheriff. Mr. Brown's career is long and varied one. He was a regular on Paul Whiteman's TV Teen Club. He has appeared in 55 plays including "Fiddler on the Roof" at McCarter Theatre and last summer as the lead in "Man of La Mancha."

Pennington Players vice-president, Jean Delgado appears as the Restaurant Owner. Mrs. Delgato has appeared in a number of Player Productions in Washington Crossing Park, in the "Sound of Music," "Show Boat," "Man of La Mancha" and many others.

Gary Loveman of Pennington appears as the young Rodeo Champ whose ideas on courtship are rather unusual. Mr. Loveman recently completed a tour with the Players' Childrens' Theatre Production of "The Sea Sick Pirate."

George Kolitsas of Trenton appears as the Cowboy's companion. His comedy talents have been displayed in numerous area productions including "Bell Book and Candle" and "Man of La Mancha" in which he played Sancho. Byron Schauer of Levittown, Pa., plays Dr. Lyman, the Professor. Mr. Schauer has appeared at Bucks County Community College, Rider College and in the Film Scoring. Rosalie Plumeri of Hamilton Square appears as the Waitress and Don Williams will play the Bus Driver.

The production is being directed by Ray Behan Jr, a theatre major at Rider College, who has toured with the Prince Street Players and Shakespeare '70. Gerald E. Guarnieri, President of the Players and Jack Rees of Pennington are co-producing.

AN EDITORIAL WORTH RE-READING

"The gangland execution last week of Joe Gallo is but the latest in a series of recent reminders that the dons of Mafia "families" are hardly the amiable, warmhearted senior citizens one might be tempted to believe after crowding one's way into any of the five — count 'em, five — Manhattan motion picture theatres in this golden harvest season of The Godfather.

"Eleven days ago avengers' bullets permanently silenced a pivitol witness for the state in an investigation into underworld activities in Queens. On the day before Gallo was gunned down in a Mulberry Street restaurant, two other men with organized crime connections were slain mob style in Queens and Staten Island.

"No amount of exaltation in book, film and television can make lovable the overlords of organized crime; men who traffic in the systematic and savage degradation of society, heedless of the wreckage or destruction of life."

— New York Times, April 10, 1972

If you are concerned about the seeming "celebration of violence," put your name and address on a post card and send to us.

sented this Saturday at 2:30 in the John Witherspoon School auditorium by the John and Ginny Dildine Family.

The event is sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society, in co-operation with the Princeton P.T.O. Admission will be 75 cents, and tickets will be available at the door. Children must be accompanied by an adult or responsible teen-ager.

The Dildines use a wide variety of puppets, ranging from three-foot-high marionettes, to large "rod" puppets, to oversize papier-mache heads. As the puppets act, the Dildines sing the stories, using guitar, banjo and dulcimer accompaniment.

All members of the Dildine family, including the three teen-agers, participate in every aspect of the show. The family has been performing for about six years, and has appeared at most of the major folk festivals in the eastern U.S. and Canada.

COPPELIA TO BE STAGED

By Ballet Society. The Princeton Ballet Society and The Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra are joining together to present "Coppelia," the complete three-act ballet that has been delighting audiences of all ages since it was first performed in Paris in 1870 with Napoleon III in the audience.

The performances, with 50 dancers from the Princeton Regional Ballet Company and 45 members of the Greater Trenton Symphony participating, are scheduled for Sunday, May 14, at the War Memorial Building, Trenton, at 3 and 7 p.m.

Frederic Franklin, director of the National Ballet Company, is restaging the classic work for the Princeton company after the original choreography of Saint Leon and later adaptations by Nichols Sergeyev and will himself appear as a guest artist dancing the role of Dr. Coppelius, an eccentric doll maker.

Stanley Lebowsky of New York City will appear as guest conductor of the Greater Trenton Symphony for the "Coppelia" performance since conductor William Smith will be on tour in Japan in May with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Mr. Lebowsky is currently musical director and conductor for the Broadway production of "Jesus Christ Superstar."

According to Audree Estey, director of the Princeton Ballet Society and artistic director of the Regional Company, this production of "Coppelia" marks the first time two local cultural organizations have jointly undertaken such a venture

Appearing in the lead role of Swanilda at the matinee performance wil be Jeanne Solan, guest artist from the Lar Lubovitch Dance Company in New York, who is a native Trentonian and charter member of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company when it was founded in 1963.

Dorothy Pettit Alonso, for years a soloist with the local dance company and recently seen as the Sugar Plum Fairy in "The Nutcraker" at McCarter, will dance the role at the evening performance. Formerly from Princeton, Mrs. Alonso now resides in New York.

Michael Uthoff, formerly premier danseur with the Robert Joffrey ballet company, will appear as guest artist in the role of Franz, Swanilda's partner, in both performances. Mr. Uthoff was enthusiastically received by McCarter audiences as the Cavalier in last year's "Nutcracke.r"

Tickets for "Coppelia" are available through the office of The Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra, Room 821, Trenton Trust Building, Trenton (394-1338 or 394-7912) or the Princeton University Store. Prices for the Matinee range from $3 to $5 in the orchestra and $1 to $5 in the balcony; for the evening performance, from $4 to $8, in the orchestra and $3. to $8. in the balcony.

POETRY TALK PLANNED

By William Cook. William Cook, Chairman of the English Department at Princeton High School and instructor at Princeton University's Seminar in Education, will present a program, "Poetry Off Paper", at the Unitarian Church of Princeton on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Cook will discuss the "Troubadour Poets". The talk will be illustrated by readings from Whitman, Lindsay, Langston Hughes, Ted Joans, Ginsberg, Ferlinghetti, and Corso.

The program details have been arranged by Princeton High School Students for Peace, and proceeds will benefit the Fund for Peace Education. Tickets are $1.50 (1 for students) and may be purchased at the Peace Center 163 Nassau Street, or at the door on the night of the program.

GATO COMING

To Murray Theatre. The Argentine tenor-saxophonist, Gato Barbieri, and his quintet will play Murray Theatre this Sunday in two appearances—one at 8 p.m. and another at 11 p.m.—under the sponsorship of Theatre Intime.

Tickets are on sale at The Wear House, 360 Nassau; Flight Two, 175 Nassau and Saturn, 4 Chambers St. They may also be reserved by calling Murray Theatre, 452-8181.

Barbieri, born in Latin America, regards himself as a representative of the Third World. The 34-year-old jazz man acknowledges influences ranging from Charlie Parker to Miles Davis and Ornette Coleman.

GARDEN

Such Good Friends (now playing) is a black comedy, directed by Otto Preminger.

Laurence Luckinbill is cast as the author of a highly successful children's book. He enters the hospital for a routine operation to remove a tumor on his neck. The minor operation develops into one serious condition after another until the patient is at death's door, due almost entirely to the casual negligence of his doctors. While his condition is worsening, his wife, played by Dyan Cannon, comes across one proof after another that her husband has been a swingin' man around town.

Preminger has taken the Esther Dale (pen name for Elaine May) script and created a strong feeling of sophisticated New York. The casting is strong, and James Coco is brilliant as the chief doctor — a portrayal that balances humor, callousness and a genuine sincerity. Jennifer O'Neill appears as one of the husband's lovers. Also in the cast are Ken Howard and Nina Foch, and Burgess Meredith.

FOR THE BOYS: A special section of Allen's has been set aside for the boys, carrying prep sizes up front and working back to toddlers, Sunday best to jeans in all sizes.

IT'S NEW To Us

ALLEN'S REMODELS

Boys' Clothes Increased. For 23 years, Allen's Children's Center at 134 Nassau Street has been a key spot in Princeton's youth circuit. The just-completed remodeling of the store, which has included expansion into the neighboring store space, is very attractive. Customers have their first real opportunity to see what's there.

Allen's carries an immense variety of clothes — from layettes and maternity clothes to moppet-to-teen sizes for boys and girls. It has children's furniture and toys as well as various gadgets, such as a five-pound stroller that folds up and hangs on your arm like an umbrella.

Newest is the increased attention being paid to boys' wear. The shop can take care of any size from 14 to 20, including the "husky" for boys who have stocky builds.

Also new is the infant gifts section, located in the front of the shop, and offering some enchanting as well as reasonably priced gift ideas for baby showers and christenings.

The boys' department has jazzy pants with "cargo" pockets on them. This is a double pocket top-stitched over the thigh. We saw also the two-tone pants for young swingers. They are brown when you see them coming and blue as seen from the rear. Other color combinations, too.

Among the shirts, polos with lace-up yokes; knits in two-tone colors, and the denim-look work shirts and jean jackets. The prices range from $7 to $12 for pants, which come in flare and straight cuts; about $12 up for knit pants; short sleeve knit shirts range from $3 to $6 in price. Allen's combines quality workmanship with durability and a fair price in all of its offerings, which probably explains its 23 years.

Among the boys, the red-white-and blue shirts are strong sellers. Allen's includes a navy blue shirt with a red yoke and white collar and front tab. For this time of year, we found light weight nylon jacket ($9); and some excellent drizzler jackets of plaid cotton in basic designes. Some are lined, and some have hoods. There are CPO jackets, of course, and a new selection of raincoats with zip-out linings.

For boys — acres of shorts, pants, sports jackets and an astute blend of both conservative and swinging styles.

Something piquant for little boys is the new warm-up suits in blue. The sweatshirt top and matching pants will set him up for jogging. Also in the pre-school range are boys' two-tone suits — such as navy with Popeye on the patch pocket — Eton suits and vest suits (no sleeve to the jacket). These are half-price at the moment as Allen's is celebrating its new store.

Among toddler clothes — boys and girls — Allen's has added Little World knits, a fine quality brand it has not previously carried. The parents of toddlers will benefit from Allen's 20 percent off on dresses, spring coats and some enchanting ensembles.

Older girls (sizes 4 to 14) will be interested in the spring coats. There are some capes, too, with matching dresses. Polyester knits abound, and the designers have certainly gone all out for the girls. From Her Majesty is a long gingham skirt, ending in a series of small ruffles.

Blouses for spring and summer range from body shirts in tailored or ruffled neck styles ($4 to $14) to embroidered peasant types. We also saw nylon nighties in lime green, lavender, pink, beige or yellow in a pretty design of short sleeves, inset waist and ruffle at the hem.

Allen's offers the expectant mother a choice of long skirts and long dresses. We thought the seersucker dresses used the stripes most helpfully. You will find swimsuits with matching long skirts that button down the front; blue jeans with an occasional butterfly or lady bug appliqued here and there.

There are also tailored denim shirts; colorful, lovely prints in dresses and tops for mothers-to-be.

For the first time in all these years, Allen's has had room to display the extensive line of nursery furniture it carries. We saw cribs, from car models to canopy types; play pens, strollers, doll carriages, baby carriages, car seats, booster chairs, bathinettes, plastic bath tubs (shaped like a fish, $7); chests of drawers, toy chests; play tables with solid rock formica finish, rockers...

There's a new baby book, too, for a thoughtful gift to young parents. Raggedy Ann and a giraffe are on the cover. The illustrations are beautifully done, and there's a merry tone to it. Five or six years from now, a moppet could look through this book and think he was a pretty good story.

SPRING SCENTS

At Marsh Pharmacy. Chanel's distinctive perfumes in their signature white-and-black packaged sets, we noticed a Marsh Pharmacy's Nassau St. window this week and drew us in for a pleasant hour of browsing.

Marsh has the full line of Chanel — perfumes, colognes, bath powders, sprays, soaps and bath oils. The scents are No. 5, 22; Russian Leather and Woods of the Isles. Among the packaged sets, we notices a bath powder and cologne spray ($12) and set of cologne spray and perfume spray ($12). Perfume ranges in price from $6 to $16; colognes are $6 to $10.

Marsh is the sole distributor in Princeton of Evyan's White Shoulders, another very popular fragrance here, we were told. On the shelf beside it are Evyan's Great Lady and Most Precious. Marsh also carries the oldest cologne of them all, 4711 as well as its companion pieces Tosca and Ice. 4711 has a strong following; it is bought by men and women of all ages who like a light cologne. The same scent is available in an excellent cream soap and in a glycerine soap.

Rochas' Femme includes an attractive gift set of bath oil, cologne and atomizer. ($6.50 for the set, as compared to $6.50 each) Madame Rochas is a stronger, somewhat heavier fragrance. Both scents are flower-like and are available in soaps as well as perfumes and colognes.

For men, Marsh has M. Rochas and Moustache in soaps, packaged three bars to a box for $6.

The younger set has found happiness with the woodsy fragrance of Love's Eau de Love. There is a full line of Love products that the young girls adore: lipsticks ("Lovesticks") with kooky names, powders, hand and body creams, skin cream and makeup. Love is a new line, put out by Menley James of Philadelphia. The Love signature is the dome, metal or plastic, on its packaging. Prices are reasonable.

Yardley's paint box sets include all eye make-up in one box and have much appeal here. ($3.50 - 5). Also Yardley's Londonderry Hair Shiner, to put the gleam on long, long locks.

For many, it will be good news that Marsh Pharmacy has non-allergic cosmetics, made by Almay. Unscented and "hypo-allergenic," the products include "Pure Silk" for eyes, creams, shampoos, lotions, and lipsticks that include the new dark shades such as Plum and Red Earth. Almay has an amusing little double decker pot to tuck into your purse. Each end opens. The pots contain two lipstick tones or two eye make-up shades. ($2.25 - $2.75)

We found at Marsh a great many hair dryers — some for men, some for women. Lady Schick and Clairol include a misty steam in their hair setters. Lady Schick also has the facial mist that comes at you through a transparent cone that snugs around your face. The mist is designed to cleanse pores, and it is a lot quicker than a walk on the moors.

Two other things at Marsh Pharmacy in the youth and beauty department: a face massager based upon the deep heat theory. There are four attachments for the white plastic handle, and a set of controls. Also among the soaps, "Neutrelle," a transparent soap, and "Rose and Cucumber soap," both complexion aids. ($1.50 and $1).

Engagements and Weddings

ENGAGEMENTS

Dearborn - Lambert. Miss Janet A. Dearborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dearborn of Muncie, Ind., to Lance A. Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lambert of 149 Terhune Road. The wedding is scheduled for June 4 in College Avenue Methodist Church, Muncie.

Miss Dearborn is a senior at Franklin College, Franklin, Ind., where she is majoring in English. She is a head resident assistant for the women's dormitory and was named recently to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Mr. Lambert, also a senior at Franklin College, is a graduate of Princeton High School. An English major, he was president of the Student Council last year.

WEDDINGS

Peterson-Myers. Miss Nancy Ann Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan F. Myers of Long Beach, Calif., to Charles H. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peterson of Lawrenceville. April 1: The University Religious Conference Church, Goleta, Calif.

The bride was graduated with honors from Long Beach Polytechnic High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara, where she was a member of the scholars' program. Mr. Peterson was graduated from the Lawrenceville School and Princeton University cum laude. At Princeton, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was named a Woodrow Wilson Fellow. Recipient of a master's degree from the University of California at Santa Barbara, where he is a doctoral candidate in biological sciences, he will be an assistant professor at the Catonsville campus of the University of Maryland next fall.

Rosso-Durland. Miss Sharon L. Durland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durland of Plainsboro, to Robert C. Rosso, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rosso of Cranbury. April 15: St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church of Hightstown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William J. Haughney, assisted by the Rev. Charles Weaver of Plainsboro Presbyterian Church.

The couple are graduates of Princeton High School. Mrs. Rosso, a graduate of the Professional School of Business, is employed by Laidlaw and Company, Princeton. Her husband attended Rider College and is a sales representative for Success Motivation Institute. The couple will live in Belle Mead.

Cooper-Cox. Miss Elizabeth M. Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Cox of 41 Hillside Avenue, to Douglas A. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cooper of San Diego, Calif. April 14: St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church. The bride, a graduate of Princeton High School, is employed by Xerox in Arlington, Va. Her husband is a graduate of the University of California at Riverside and is employed by Arena Stage, Washington, D.C. The couple will live in Springfield, Va.

Butrym-Vydareny. Miss Jeri Vydareny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vydareny of Hightstown, to John A. Butrym Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Butrym of Pennington. April 15: Anthony of Padua Roman Catholic Church, Hightstown. The bride is a graduate of Mercer County Community College. Her husband, a graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School, is an apprentice carpenter with Local 781. The couple will live in Hightstown.

Furniture show.

It changes every day as we add interesting new items we've discovered in the far-flung furniture markets of the world. Unusual. Unique. Contemporary. Exquisite. No one adjective serves them all.

One thing ties them together. They're all conversation pieces that are bound to start people talking. You'd be amazed how many people have become our friends after coming in just for a look-see — and staying several hours. Lovers of fine furniture and furnishings know what we mean. And that's what Viking is all about.

Right now we have extraordinary pieces from Finland, Italy, Germany, Norway and Denmark. Others too. If names like Akari, Flocati, Arne, Moreddi and Unika Vev don't mean anything to you, come in and we'll introduce you to them and many, many others. (You'll point and inwardly smile as you wend your way down aisle after curving aisle filled with domestic and imported delights.

Admission, of course, is free.

MUSIC In Princeton

LIFE OF CHRIST TOPIC

Of Seminary Spectacular. Messiah! a singing and dancing spectacular in the style of the '30s, will he offered in the Campus Center Auditorium of Princeton Theological Seminary Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 0 p.m. Its subject is The life of Jesus.

The entirely reverent approach — the presentation forms part of course work for the "Life of Jesus" classes directed by Seminary Professors Johan C. Beker and Hugh T. Kerr — is intended to bring the "Good News" to young people and some of the older generations alienated from the Church by ritual, set prayers and established hymns.

The "book" was written hy Seminary students Susan M. Alexander, Bard D. Shollenberger and John T. Masterson, Jr., with assistance from John Hobbie of the Goodman School of Drama, Chicago. It has been set to the music of Cole Porter, Sigmund Romherg, Victor Herbert and other masters.

The part of Christ is played by Dennis Papara, a graduate student at Princeton University. "Satan" is professional dancer Peter Dudley of Philadelphia. The other players, all Seminary students or their wives, include: Joyce W. Bardeen, Jan R. Bartlett, Wade H. Benjamin, Aaron A. Carland, M. Joe Coalter, Theodore L. Cockley, Jeffrey J. Coghill, Paul F. Fisher, Susan Gruebel, Patricia R. Hamilton, Robert C. Hamm, Eleanor A. Johnson, Randell A. Koren, Alfred and Lisa Lindahl, Peter F. Maier, Mary L. Marple, John T. Masterson, Jr., Douglas B. McGruther, Monica E. McKig, Jacqueline L. McRae, Jack S. Miller, Douglas P. Nuetzman, Gregory J. Pike, John C. Poling, James A. Rimmer, Rodney C. Shoemaker, Bard D. Shollenberger, Robert T. Smith, Elizabeth A. Steffy, Steven E. Swerdfeger, Jean A. Swope, Thomas R. Taggart, Jr., Daniel J. Weitner, and Roger L. Woehl.

A small donation, 50 cents for students and $1 for others, will be collected at the door to defray production costs.

CONCERT THIS SUNDAY

By University Symphonic Band. Princeton University President, Dr. Robert F Goheen, will narrate Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait" as the highlight of a program of contemporary music to be presented this Sunday in Alexander Hall.

The 8::00 p.m. program will be given by the Princeton University Symphonic Band, under the baton of Dr. David Uber and with student conductor Donald R. Hershey. Tickets ($1.50; students, $1) may be obtained from the Princeton University Store, from any band member, or at the door.

In addition to the "Lincoln Portrait," also featured will be the first concert performance of "Four Episodes for Symphonic Band," written by the Princeton band's conductor, Dr. Uber, and dedicated to the band.

"Pictures at an Exhibition" by Modeste Moussorgsky, a series of nine musical vignettes each describing a painting at an art exhibition, will be presented in its entirety. The piece climaxes in the triumphant "Great Gate of Kiev."

Another number of particular interest will be Percy Grainger's 'Lincolnshire Posy," a collection of old Irish and English folk tunes as written down by Grainger when they were sung to him in 1905. Also on the program are selections by Darius Milhaud, Leonard Bernstein, Howard Hanson, Hohannes Hanssen, Giovanni Gabrieli, and two sections from Gustav Holst's monumental work, 'The Planets."

For Friday Concert. This Friday concert of contemporary music will be presented by the Friends of Music in Woolworth Center, at 8:30 p.m.

The program will include "Saxophone Quartet," Opus 22 by Webern; "Partitions" by Milton Babhitt, and works of student composers of the Music Department.

On Saturday, April 22, at 3:30 p.m. the Friends of Music will present a Student Concert with Linn Jackson and Joan Margules '74, Sopranos and David Shapero '72 Bass. All three are students of Miss Shirlee Emmons; Miss Margules and Mr. Shapero will be remembered as the husband and wife in Rossini's opera "The Turk in Italy," performed at Theatre Intime in Decemher.

The program for this recital will include arias by Mozart (including a duet from "Die Zauberflote"), and songs by Debussy, Brahms and Britten. The concert will be in Woolworth Center. Both concerts are open to the public, admission free.

CHOIR TO PERFORM

In Milbank Concert. The annual Milbank Memorial Concert will be presented in Princeton University Chapel this Sunday, at 3:30 p.m.

The Princeton University Choir, under the direction of Carl Weinrich, will sing Schubert's "Mass in G," and Mozart's "Davidde Penitente." The Choir will be assisted by a chamber orchestra and the following soloists: Karla Johnson, Linnea Jackson, Sheryl Wingert, sopranos; Michael Carrigan, David Hoffelt, tenors; Todd Fansler, bass; Susan Farmer, organist.

CHICAGO SYMPHONY HERE

For December Concert. The 1972-1973 season of the Princeton University Concerts will feature the appearance of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Georg Solti in Jadwin Gymnasium on December 4, 1972 to accommodate music lovers from the entire area.

In addition to the Chicago Symphony, Series I will include the young American pianist Garrick Ohlsson on October 16, Thomas Paul, Bass November 6, and the Mozarteum Orchestra of Salzburg, with Lili Kraus, Piano soloist February 26.

Series II next season will start off with a recital by the famed Dutch harpsichordist Gustav Leonhardt October 23 and continue with Pean-Pierre Rampal, Flutist in a joint recital with the Juilliard Quartet January 15, Marylin Horne, Mezzo-soprano February 12, and the Minnesota Orchestra, Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, conductor March 5.

Subscriptions to both series are availabe. Prices for Series I are $22 and $17, for Series II $20 and $15. Send orders to the Concert Office, Woolworth Center, Princeton University, Princeton. Checks should be made payable to: Princeton University Concerts. Single tickets to the above concerts will go on sale in the fall.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Enclosed is the text of a letter which I write to the Manager of the Prince Theatre. I feel that the showing of commercial shorts for IT&T in the local theatres is an indication of managements negligence to its audience.

NANA FELDMAN
197 Witherspoon Street.

I was dismayed that the short for the Last Picture Show turned out to be another one of those pseudo advertisements for IT&T (AT&T-Bell Telephone), which have been turning up in the local theatres (The Garden and Princeton Playhouse included).

It seems a shame to me that with all the interesting shorts that are available no attempt has been made by the local movie houses to offer their audiences anything more than 1950 travel logs and IT&T advertisements.

We are all programmed with advertisements constantly in newspapers, magazines, billboards, television and radio, etc. IS NO PLACE SACREO? Do we now have to pay $2.50 to be subjected to 20 minutes of propaganda? And propaganda is the right word.

IT&T and its subsidiaries monopolize the communications industry. It is a huge corporation condoned by the government and we do not need to hear of its wonders . . ."all around you in the air, under the ground and deep in the ocean.") Instead of IT&T spending money to tell us about IT&T, wouldn't it be better for the Bell Telephone Company to start working on its system?

I do not think that it is fair that movie audiences have to be subject to this. There is enough garbage coming out of Hollywood pretending to be art, why do we also have to be plowed over with advertisements pretending to be clever shorts.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Regional School System has long had a reputation for being one of the finest in the country. In recent years, however, this reputation has become somewhat tarnished.

The reasons quickly become apparent if we look at the cause for its fame and the changes that have affected it in the past few years.

The Princeton school system never gained its good reputation from the reactionary and regressive forces that are now mounting an ever-increasing assault on a school system that is struggling admirably to keep up with the present rate of change, not even to speak of attempting to lead in the educational field, as it once did.

Our school system has been great, and the only way it can ever be so again is if we stop sighing and looking fondly at the past, and rather if we commit ourselves to a continually progressive program for the future — the kind that made us great in the first place! The answers to the past can never be the solutions of the present, let alone the future.

It is time that the reactionary forces of this community stop their constant carping and criticizing, and give their full support to an open-minded and creative superintendent — one dedicated to an innovative and meaningful program for meeting our present and future needs, not for the sake of innovation as some charge, but for the sake of making this school system surpass what ever high standards it set for the field of education in years gone by, and emerge once again as a leader in relevant and responsive education for all.

P.J.&B. Review Unfair.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Thrilled with the music, the kids' acting abilities, the truly grand performances of the entire cast of "Sound of Music," the pleased look on Milton Lyon's face during the show, I find it rather sad that your reviewer wrote as he did.

To include snide asides, picky points and (what I consider) some unjust criticism, isn't very fair when it was so well received.

Why is it necessary to have such a review printed after the fact? What purpose does it serve? All the performances were SRO, everyone attending was ecstatic and fulfilled, except you-know-who.

Anyway, PJ&B, we all love you, and give you our happy thanks. And whenever you hit the boards again, we'll all be there.

Enjoy, Arno. Enjoy.

CHILDS CUP RACE HERE

Regatta on Lake Saturday. The Childs Cup Regatta, first staged nearly a century ago among Pennsylvania, Columbia and Princeton, will be held Saturday on Lake Carnegie. The freshmen will row at 3:50, the juniors varsities at 4:10, with the three varsity shells starting at 4:30.

Pennsylvania, victor in the events for the last six years, is a strong favorite to repeat. Princeton, winner over Rutgers in its first race of the season but defeated Saturday by Navy on the Severn River, figures to finish ahead of Columbia. All races will cover 2,000 meters.

Two Princeton residents will row in the varsity race. Chris Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Macpherson Raymond of Cherry Valley Road, is a member of the Tiger shell. Tom Butterfoss, a PHS graduate in 1968, rows for Penn. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Butterfoss of 249 Mt. Lucas Road.

Other Sports on Page 19

Interlarded with the Childs Cup races Saturday will be three between the Cornell and Princeton lightweights. Freshmen, jayvee and varsity 150 lb. shells will row at 3:40, 4 and 4:20, the varsities competing for the Platt Cup.

Navy Two - Length Victor. Overcoming a slim Princeton lead by the time the quarter mark had been reached, Navy's power told the story Saturday as the midshipmen triumphed over the Tigers for the first time in a decade. The victors were timed in 6:19.5 on the choppy water; Princeton in 6:28.5.

The Navy heavyweight jayvee and freshman shells also won, but the Tigers triumphed in all three 150-lb. races. Rowing conditions were inconsistent during the six-race morning regatta, with the Plebe heavyweights recording the best time of 5:51.1 because of a strong headwind that temporarily blew downriver.

BALL TEAM IN TROUBLE

Tigers Lose 2 League Games. A faulty defense and rainy weather combined to land Princeton in the cellar of the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League after its first weekend of play.

The Tigers were trounced by Dartmouth, 8-4, on Friday, as errors contributed to a six-run fourth for the Indians. Two days later, a postponed doubleheader with Harvard saw them drop a 4-0 decision before rain washed out the second game.

Senior Steve McLean gave up five hits and a walk in the inning that wrecked the Tigers' hopes against Dartmouth. Two errors, one good for a pair of runs, helped the Indians keep circling the bases, and when they added two more in the fifth, short-lived Princeton rallies in the closing innings were of no avail.

The Orange and Black's mounting problems with the bat were underscored by the 17 strikeouts credited to Dartmouth hurler Charlie Janes. No Princeton batter managed more than a single safety of the eight the losers made.

Blevins Beaten. Randy Blevins, Princeton's only consistent pitcher this season, almost defeated Harvard, 1-0, on Sunday. In the last of the seventh — the final inning of doubleheaders — Princeton had Tony Riposta on second with two out.

Shortstop Jeff Davis laced a line single over first, but the Harvard right fielder was in perfect position for the sharp shot and his on-target throw cut Riposta down at the plate by four feet. When the Crimson, starting defense of its 1971 title, came to bat in the next inning, it reached Blevins for five hits, four runs and the ball game.

Earlier in the week, infield errors and a dozen runners left on bases were the primary factors in an 8-6 loss to Rutgers at New Brunswick. The Tigers had leads of 3-0 and 6-5, the latter going into the last of the eighth, but could not hold on.

Three more league games are on the schedule this weekend, a single contest at Brown Friday and a doubleheader Saturday with Yale at New Haven. Road games next week send them to Easton Tuesday to play Lafayette and to New York Thursday for a game with Fordham.

FOUR GOALS FOR PETTIT

As Tigers Top Harvard. Jon Pettit, a member of the athletically-minded Princeton Pettits, helped to restore a large measure of respectability to Princeton lacrosse Saturday as he scored four times to lead the Tigers to a 9-7 victory over Harvard. The triumph at Cambridge was the Orange and Black's first in the sport over the Crimson in five years.

The home team moved out to a 4-1 lead by the end of the first quarter. Princeton then scored seven straight goals in one of the best performances credited to a lacrosse team here in several years.

The Tigers are now 3-1, after having failed to win more than once in a dozen games last spring. Yale will be their next opponent, coming to Finney Field for a game Saturday at 2:30.

FIRST IN 40 YEARS

Tigers Top Harvard in Track The longest domination by a traditional rival over Princeton came to an end Saturday in the chill, damp confines of Palmer Stadium when the Tiger track team upset Harvard by the somewhat astounding margin of 89 to 65. It was in 1932, when John Grier Hibben was president of Princeton and Franklin Delano Roosevelt had not yet arrived in the White House, that the Orange and Black last won a track meet from Harvard.

Track is one of the sports in which Ivy colleges permit freshmen to compete at the varsity level, and the Class of 1975 contributed heavily to the Princeton victory. Two of its members, Pierre Gourdon and Steve Wilk, finished one-two in the 220-yard dash, while Jeff Weicksel ran a dead heat with sophomore Chris Elliot in the 080, which the Tigers swept

All nine points in the high jump likewise came Princeton's way, while the performance of junior Carl Barisich was another feature of the field events. He won the shot and the discus, after having undergone a knee operation last fall for a football injury.

Last winter, Harvard won the indoor meet from Princeton, 92½ to 30, Yale placing third with 25½. Saturday's outcome was a major tribute to the coaching accomplishments of Larry Ellis and his assistant, Irwin Weiss.

day, 3 one-half to 1 one-half, to raise its record to 3-0.

Coach Bill Humes' squad, experienced in every position, will be at Somerville on Friday, entertain Peddie here on Monday at 3:45 and travel to Pennington for a match with Hopewell Valley High School on Tuesday. The team was scheduled to play rival Hun School this Wednesday at 3:30 on the PHS courts.

Against New Brunswick, Michael Glouchevitch, the number one singles player for the Little Tigers, won his first match of the season, 6-0, 6-3. Danny Thompson triumphed easily, 6-1, 6-0, and Bill Schmidt won his match without the loss of a single game.

"Schmidt has played excellent tennis," commented Humes. "His improvement has made it a lot easier for us this year."

In doubles play, the pair of Bob McDougal and Bob Aldridge won by forfeit and Randy Thomas and Dick Broad won, 6-0, 6-0.

Opposite Millburn, the lone team to defeat PHS last year, Glouchevitch lost, 7-5, 6-3, but Thompson won in three sets and Schmidt won his match, 6-3, 6-3. Aldridge and Nicki Glouchevitch clinched it by taking the number one doubles, 6-5, 4-6, 6-2.

Thomas and Broad actually won their shortened match — the third set consisted of a single tie-breaker game — but Humes decided to split the score, anyway, giving each team a half-point.

PHS OVERWHELMED

By Ewing in Track. Princeton High School captured four firsts but accomplished little else Friday as the visiting Ewing track team (3-0) overwhelmed its host, 99-32. The setback was the Little Tigers' third in a row without a victory.

Coach Larry Ivan's squad will get a few days off to pull itself together, since its next dual meet is not until Wednesday here against Franklin. Starting time is 3:45.

Roland Smith, running the two-mile for the first time this season, won that event against Ewing with a clocking of 10:35.3. His margin of victory was 150 yards. Teammate Tom Snow was second in 10:57.

Other firsts for PHS included Steve Woodside in the 220 (24.6), Lionel Hammond in the long jump (19-3) and Bill Alexander in the shot put. His mark of 48-3 was his best of the year. Mike Coda was second in the half-mile and Richard Guzy captured a second for PHS in the javelin.

Ewing swept the 440, pole vault, high jump and low hurdles. It won the mile relay in 3:46. Princeton's time was [illegible].

the final margin in the season opener last Wednesday as Lawrenceville Jayvees edged out the Panthers, 5-4. Two periods of semi-confusion saw George School open an insurmountable 9-2 lead at the end of the third period, Friday, but PDS jelled and closed the gap to 9-5.

Lawrenceville led 4-1 at the half and 5-2 early in the third period. The Blue and White smothered the Larries' attack from that point on, and John Moore's second goal of the game brought it to 5-4 with two minutes to play. Other PDS scores were by John Gordon and Peter Moore.

George led 3-2 at the end of the first stanza, and scored six more before PDS found the nets again in the fourth period. The late rally wasn't enough. John Moore added two more goals to his skein and Dirk Gleysteen scored a pair unassisted on the attack.

PDS was scheduled to open its home season Wednesday at 3:30 against Peddie. Friday, it will travel to Hunterdon Central for a 3:45 contest.

HUN NINE SPLITS

Rain Postpones Two. The Hun School baseball team managed to play two games last week and had a pair postponed because of weather conditions.

Hun was an easy, 11-1, winner over George School on Friday but was outslugged by Pennington in its opener, 16-12. Meantime, Saturday's game with Ewing was rained out and wet grounds forced cancellation of Monday's tilt with Peddie.

As a result, the schedule is backing up for new coach Bill McQuade. The Peddie contest has been rescheduled for Thursday at 3:45. The next day Hun will be at Germantown Friends. It was scheduled to play the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf here on Wednesday at 3:30. Next Wednesday Hun will tangle with crosstown rival Princeton Day School at 3 at the PDS field.

In the George School contest, Hun received strong pitching — something it didn't get in the opener — from Chuck Sista. Sista allowed four hits and walked only one. The game was called after five innings because of darkness.

McQuade described George School as a "young and weak" team but agreed that Hun had played a lot better ball than it had in the opener. Dennis Skrajewski was the big man at the plate for Hun, rapping two triples. A double by Alan Chalifoux was one of Hun's nine hits.

"Amazing. It was more like a football game," is the way McQuade described the opening horror with pennington. Behind 9-0 after two and one half innings, Hun battled back to tie, 12-12, sending it into extra innings. In the ninth, a Hun error — its seventh — five walks and a hit broke the tie. "Before I knew it they had four runs," said McQuade. "I thought we would catch them after coming back from 9-0," he said, "but we ran out of steam."

PHS GIRLS WIN FIRST

In Track. 79½ to 29½. Sweeps in the quarter and half-mile and triumphs in both relay races powered the Princeton High School girls track team to a 79½-29½ victory last week in their opening meet here with J. P. Stevens.

Thursday, the girls will entertain Pennsbury at 3:45 in their third dual meet and on Tuesday they will be at Mater Dei.

Debbie Brooks set a pair of records for PHS in the shot and discus. She hurled the discus 75 5 to better the old mark by three feet, and the shot 28-8 3-4. The previous mark was 27-10. The shot, however, was won by J. P. Stevens with a 29-5 effort.

Francie Walstad led the sweep in the 440 with a 69.2 clocking. Karen Winn and Sandy Cobb placed second and third. Diane Westover captured the 880 with a time of 2:36.5. Kathy Woodbridge, a freshman, was second, Karen Wood, third. Kathy's performance, said coach Lamont Fletcher, "supported my feeling about her capabilities."

Lori Bowman won the 100 (12.9), Karen Herzog the 120-yard low hurdles (18.5) and Grace McEwen, the 50-yard dash in 6.9. Fletcher reported that he was impressed by McEwen's time. She is a sophomore and is out for track for the first time.

Nadia ElMeligi won the 220. She then teamed with McEwen, Walstad and Nadine Vernon to win the 880 relay. Herzog, Bowman, Winn and Karen Brooks captured the 440 relay.

To start a "farm" program, Fletcher has some Middle School girls working out with the varsity. Three who excelled in the opening meet, he said, were Marie Sheehan, Lori Jaffin and Linda Edwards.

pete again. Last year, a Princeton area team upset Philadelphia to qualify for the National City Team Championships in Atlanta. Regional playoffs will be held in late spring and early summer; the finals will be held August 14-18.

Princeton will conduct a special training program for all advanced tournament players to prepare juniors for the Middle States circuit as well as the National City event.

To be eligible, a player must have sectional ranking from previous tournament play, be a member of his school varsity tennis team or be recommended by his tennis coach.

Last year, the team was limited to older high school students but this year younger players may be admitted to a special group if there are sufficient applicants. A girls' team will be formed, too, depending on the number of entries received.

Any junior player who plans to participate in either the Middle States or National City tournaments should send a letter as soon as possible to the Princeton Community Tennis Program, Ridgeview Road, RD5, Princeton. Additional information may be obtained by calling the program director, Mrs. Lewis Kraft, at 924-4737.

LEAGUE GAMES AHEAD

For Princeton Day Nine. Winner of its first two ball games this spring, the Princeton Day baseball team will be involved in key contests against other Penn - Jersey teams for the next 10 days.

After a game scheduled against Pennington School this Wednesday afternoon, the Panthers will play Perkiomen away Friday, meet Hun School at home Wednesday, April 26. The following Friday will find them at Germantown Friends, probably their closest rival for the Day School Division title in the League's Day School Division.

Mike Felder brought home the winning run in unusual style, with a dive over the head of the catcher, in last Friday's 4-3 triumph over

PBA Five Advances

The Princeton Patrolmen Benevolent Association basketball team (Borough, Township and West Windsor has advanced in the state PBA Tournament with a convincing, 113-73 win last week over the Hunterdon County PBA.

Tom Michaud and Bob Mucciarelli of the Borough scored 20 and 19 points to lead the Princeton team, which placed six men in double figures. Barry Hibbs of West Windsor added 13, Dave Cromwell of the Township 12, and Kerry Klink and Jerry Offredo, 11 each. Cliff Maurer, 8; Bill Potts, 6 and Bob Nielsen, 4.

Others: Joe Mazotas, 9; Hunterdon's Charlie Boyce led all scorers with 33.

Bryn Athyn.

With the score tied 3-3 in the top of the eighth (the first extra inning of the seven-inning game) Felder led off with a single, and advanced to second on a walk to Kirk Moore. Both players moved up on a wild pitch.

When relief pitcher John Boyd hit a grounder to shortston Felder broke for the plate. The catcher had the ball waiting for him, but was bent over so far, anticipating a slide, that Felder was able to leap over his head and land safely on home plate with the winning run.

This enabled Boyd to pick up his second victory in as many games. He had relieved starter Mark Ellsworth in the fifth.

Ellsworth performed adequately in his first chance at pitching in a long time. Wildness cost him two runs in the first inning, but he settled down after that until the fifth when he walked two batters. Coach Alan Taback brought in Boyd at this point.

The Blue and White opened its scoring in the fourth when Moore doubled, stole third and came home on the catcher's overthrow. Felder's two singles accounted for the rest of the PDS hitting.

However, as is often the case in high school ball, PDS put two more across in the fifth without the benefit of a hit. Carl Rosenberg drove one in on a sacrifice fly and Duncan Martin, the other on a fielder's choice.

NEW SEASON BEGINS

For Women Golfers. Women members of the Springdale Golf Club began their season last week with a luncheon at the Present Day Club, over which Mrs. Ralph Mather, chairman of the association, presided. Mrs. Kester Pierson is serving with her as co-chairman.

Others serving in various capacities are Mrs. Orrin J. Wenzel and Mrs. George Conover, tournament chairmen; Mrs. Burton A. Ford and Mrs. Glen B. Miller, handicap chairmen; Mrs. Richard Schoch and Mrs. Moore Gates, prize chairmen; Mrs. John Hoff and Mrs. Samuel Chase, house chairmen; Mrs. James W. Turgeon and Mrs. Donald Bordelmay, new member chairmen; Mrs. Edward J. Johnson and Mrs. John H. Houghton, publicity chairmen; Mrs. Ralph Sharp and Mrs. Oliver Houghton, mixed tournament chairmen; Mrs. Theodore T. Tams and Mrs. Robert D. McCarthy, nine-hole chairmen.

Softball Meeting Monday

The Princeton Recreation Department, sponsors of the Adult Softball League, will hold an organizational meeting for this season Monday night at 7:30 in Borough Hall.

All managers and interested players are urged to attend.

Tryouts for Legion Ball

After many years absence, Legion baseball is coming to Princeton.

Tryouts for the Legion Post 76 team will be held Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 at the Princeton High School diamond. To be eligible, a player must be a resident of Mercer County and be between 16 and 18. (A boy can't be born before August 1, 1953.)

The season will start June 10 with all Legion Post 76 home games being played at the Princeton University field. The team will be coached by Leonard Weister, Princeton High School varsity baseball coach. He is being assisted by Bill Hoffman and Roger Gordon.

Additional information is available from Ted Kopp, 921-7166.

SUNFISH ONLY

In Interfleet Series. Only Sunfish sailed on Lake Carnegie Sunday in the first of a two-week Interfleet series.

Ed Metcalf dominated the class by winning five races and placing second in the sixth. This gives him an almost insurmountable lead for top honors over Bob Holzman and Jack Kunz who were runners-up.

This past Sunday brought some satisfaction to a few of the 1972 Sunfish skippers who seldom finish near the top. Mrs. Hera Kwiatkowski, the Carnegie Sailing Club's only woman member, finished third in the fifth race, and Commodore Dick Hill earned a second and a fourth place finish. In a borrowed boat, sloop skipper Paul Porter compiled the fourth best Sunfish record for the day.

DIVING CROWN WON

By Pennington Girl. Carol Wagner of Pennington, a member of the Princeton Y Flying Fish team, has won the 1972 indoor junior olympic springboard diving championship of the eastern regions of the United States.

Undefeated in dual meet competition this season, Miss Wagner will complete her winter diving schedule next Thursday when she competes in the women's YMCA nationals in Erie, Pa.

Carol, a seventh grade student at Timberlane Junior High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wagner of Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington. She is being coached by Princeton's Donald Bush whose daughter, Leslie, was an Olympic gold medal diving champion in 1964.

In capturing the New Jersey gold medal in March, Carol qualified to compete in the regional meet held this month at Stoney Brook, L. I. Representing this state in the 11-12 age division, she amassed a to surpass the previous record (1969) by 17 points.

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP COUNTRY COLONIAL

Sitting pretty on 2 acres, surrounded with trees, pool, tennis court, & large cabana with bath, dressing room & work area with heat. This 8 room house with 4 bedrooms, 3½ baths, boasts the most ultra kitchen & family room; cherry panelled wall w/brick fireplace, bookcases, stereo, cathedral ceiling, picture windows overlooking pool & garden. You'll find yourself not only living in this room but entertaining as well. Conveniently located to Princeton and Trenton.

HOPEWELL CONTEMPORARY

You would love this expansive contemporary perfectly placed on 14 high wooded acres in the heart of Hopewell Township's estate country.. Many impressive features: attractive central courtyard, flagstone floors, rough textured walls, natural woodwork, floor to ceiling windows, & balcony overlooking the lovely acreage. Extremely functional with 3 + bedrooms, 1½ baths, living room w/fp, dining room, eat-in kitchen, study, sewing & laundry room. There is a barn & workshop, and a fenced pasture. This home has everything — rustic setting and complete convenience.

NORMANDY BARN

Well, we've heard about it but have never seen an old stone barn converted so satisfyingly into a home. You would never for a minute doubt that it was a barn but likewise always feel the warmth of a cozy, friendly, yes — even comfortable home. French Normandy style on 3 + acres of high ground in Hunterdon Co. Many unique features: all brick floors, large living room w/ huge beams & fp, superb kitchen, conservatory, cedar-panelled den, 3 spacious bedrooms, 2 baths, spinning porch and redwood balcony overlooking the delightful garden, and greenhouse.

LIVABLE AND LOVABLE

Too often we find that the really good restorations sacrifice the informal comfort of a country place for the sake of their antiquity — not so at Jinglestone. The old brick on the kitchen floor, the obviously well-used fireplaces testify to its livability. The old stone sink, random floors and crude stone work flaunt its historic value. In Hunterdon, on 5 acres, 4 bedrooms, 3 fireplaces, imaginative kitchen, spring house, and fine stone barn just crying to be done into a studio or guest house, pool, stream, orchard.

IF OUR LIVELIHOOD DEPENDED SOLELY ON STRIPPING PAINT AND VARNISH FROM RARE ANTIQUES WE'D BE LIVING PRETTY LOW ON THE HOG. Happily business is booming at The Wood Shed and it's because customers bring us lots of nice, everyday furniture which was born about when they were. We've had our share of things a century or two old but mainly we're working with more recent vintage. So look around your home or office for a chair or table or entire set of furniture which by now really needs reviving. We strip most chairs for $7.50, dining tables for $15-25 and we can do the repairs and refinishing or show you how. In any event come out to The Wood Shed and see how nifty other people's things look. Our Chem-Clean solvent process is entirely safe for glued joints, veneer, inlay, fine woods, formica, cane, rush and metal. Wood grain stays smooth. And if you bring us one or two hardened paint brushes we'll clean them for nothing. The Wood Shed is between Princeton and Belle Mead, ½ mile off Route 206 on Bridgepoint Road. (201) 359-4777. We're closed Sun. and Mon. 4-20-2t

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. ■ Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. ■ Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?
